"Another deadline to meet; another headache," may well be the term used by the 1958 Hyakem Staff as they presented another Hyakem, but behind the hundreds and hundreds of hours of work, worry, and hurry is the sincere hope that all who read this copy of the yearbook will recall many wonderful experiences during the past year.

By featuring you, and your friends in dormitory life, classroom experiences, social activities, athletic events, and leadership positions during the 1957-58 school year, the editor and staff hope they have presented the most outstanding part of your college education and experiences for each one of you individually.

After well over a year in planning and preparing this edition of Central's annual yearbook, the Hyakem, the editor and staff wish you many happy hours of browsing at your past, now and in the years to come.

DEDICA

One of the most active and enthusiastic professors on Central Washington College's campus since 1918 has been Miss Mabel T. Anderson. Her brisk step and quick smile are a continual inspiration to all of the students with whom she comes in contact.

Miss Anderson's teaching career began in a small one-room school in California, where she had to crank the school bus before she could start over the windy mountain roads in any type of weather to pick up the students in her school. When she reached the school, the fire had to be built, and after school she had to do her own maintenance work. In 1918, she joined the staff of the College Elementary School where she taught both third and fourth grades, doing much mental and aptitude testing and a great deal of remedial work and special reading work. In 1943, she was promoted to Associate Professor of Child Development when she began her work in the Division of Education and Psychology.

Miss Anderson has an outstanding professional attitude and belongs to such professional organizations as WEA, NEA, American Association of University Professors, American Society for Curriculum Development, Progressive Education Association, and the Supervisors Association. She has worked with the state office in preparing and editing curriculum materials and is a member of the state board of the Administrative Women in Education. She has lectured to over one hundred PTA groups in the state and has been awarded honorary life membership in PTA. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, and Delta Kappa Gamma, as well as being adviser to Central's Women Students, an organization she founded on this campus.

Not only does Miss Anderson take an active part in school activities, but she is a member of the local Civil Defense. As an active member of the Lutheran church, she served as church organist for several years and as choir member, and has served on the board for the last nine years.

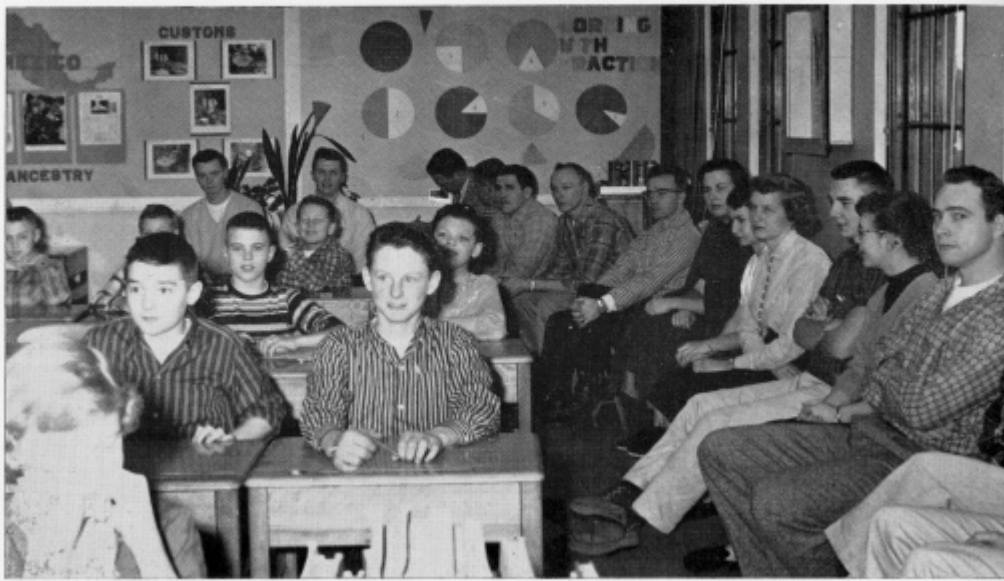

Miss Anderson is a living example of the theories she teaches, is ever ready to help any student on the campus, is active in many capacities, and lives the type of life which is full to the brim, but never is she too busy to speak to a passing student nor too pre-occupied to enjoy a small boy's delight on the playground or in the classroom. She was an honor student herself and has received her master's degree from Columbia University, also doing extra work at the University of Chicago.

Because of her continued inspiration to the many students on campus and her outstanding work for the college, we wish to dedicate the 1958 HYAKEM to Miss Mabel T. Anderson, an understanding friend and a model teacher, in hopes that her continued years on the staff will be the happiest ones of her entire life.

Miss Dorothy Heintz, Editor of the 1958 Hyakem, has discussed with me her plans and hopes for the yearbook. I am sure we all appreciate her creative thinking and will treasure this volume which not only is colorful since there are more colored pictures, but it has a theme which directs our thoughts to the future. Every yearbook serves as an historical document portraying the life of the institution for an academic year. As one looks through its pages, people and events that have faded in the memory are revived. Frequently one looks into a Hyakem to find the picture of a college friend, a club, an event, an athletic team or a professor.

The year 1957-58 has marked a pinnacle of success for the College. We have the largest enrollment of students, the largest professional staff, the most complete equipment in the history of the institution. It has been a busy year for faculty and students. All of us, I am sure, are glad to have a record of this academic year in the form of an excellent and colorful Hyakem.

May I compliment the Editor and her staff on the quality of the publication. It will be appreciated by all those who have had a part in campus life.

I am glad to join the Staff and the Students in extending good wishes to the Seniors who will be departing in June or August.

Robert E. McConnell
President

Administrators Give Another Year of Service,

Mrs. Annette H. Hitchcock, Dean of Women

Publishing a college yearbook is a dedicated task. Few of us realize the multitude of details and deadlines, and the vast amount of organization that goes on from the moment college opens in the autumn to the time that the book emerges from the press in the spring. So to the editor, Dorothy Heintz, and her loyal staff, and to their adviser, Miss Wiley, we extend our sincere appreciation for the time and effort spent to create this beautiful Hyakem.

I hope that for each of you who turn its pages, it will contain many happy memories of the friendships and good times, which are so important in undergraduate life.

To you, our graduating seniors, we extend good wishes for success and happiness in your chosen fields.

Annette H. Hitchcock
Dean of Women

Dr. Emil E. Samuelson, Dean of Students.
Dr. Ernest L. Muzzall, Director of Graduate Studies.
Mr. Edward B. Rogel, Director of Public Service.

Friendship, Leadership, and Guidance to Hundreds

Dr. Dean Stinson, Dean of Men

Dr. J. Wesley Crum, Dean of Instruction.
Mr. Perry H. Mitchell, Registrar.
Mr. Kenneth Courson, Business Manager.

The graduating class of 1958 holds the somewhat dubious distinction of being the class of the year of Sputnik I. I say dubious distinction, because the advent of the Sputniks may also mark the end of one era in our American way of life and the beginning of another.

The determination of what the future holds for all of us will be decided in the final analysis by you, the college graduates of today.

From your ranks will eventually come the leadership that can set our destiny.

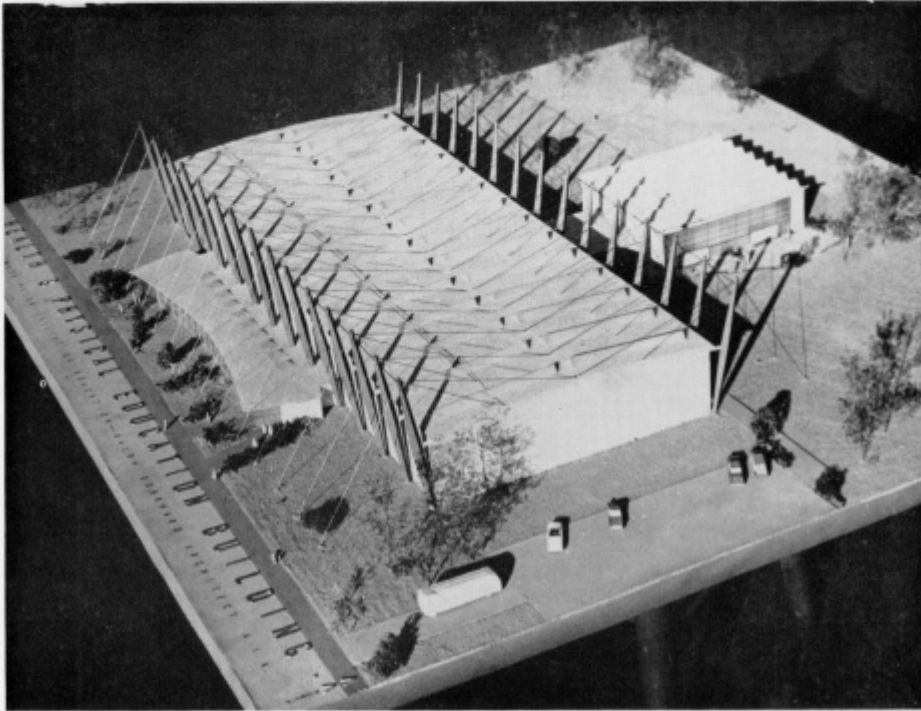

I am not at all sure we have given you the tools to perform this task. If you fail, it may be our fault.

My best wishes go with you as you face the responsibilities of our new world.

Dean Stinson
Dean of Men

OUR "DREAM"

The new "suspension" type look will appear in the new physical education building to be started this summer. The concrete building is being designed to be both functional and attractive with the latest in P.E. facilities. And, if you want to go swimming, the new Health and Physical Education Building will also have an indoor swimming pool.

Ralph Burkhard, architect from Seattle is responsible for this lovely and practical building — a "dream come true" after many years of planning, requesting finances, and replanning.

Designed to utilize natural lighting throughout, the building will feature louvres on the roof which can be closed at night to preserve heat. Inclusion of a fieldhouse, 120 by 160 feet in size, will permit track teams, ball teams, and other athletic events to be held indoors. The area around the plant will be developed for outdoor activities.

IN MEMORY

Mrs. Janet Wilson Thorn, 67, housemother of Sue Lombard hall, passed on just before Christmas in California where she had gone to spend the holidays with her sons. This is the report that the newspaper gave, but to the girls of Sue and to other students on campus it was more than this.

"Thorny," the name she was affectionately called by those who knew her, was more than just a housemother. She was that person that one shared one's joys and sorrows, one's successes and one's failures with. She was that bustling little piece of humanity that was always so ready to help "her" girls or to take pleasure at any personal or dormitory success.

For many, she was the guardian of lives while they went through college. For those and for others the memory of Mrs. Thorn will go bright and untarnished throughout their lifetime.

At the left is one of the dance classes held daily in the women's gym for CWCE students. One dance class is required of all graduates, desiring a general certificate. Mr. Hogue's pottery class is pictured at the right. Besides pottery, the industrial arts program includes sculpturing, jewelry making, lapidary, welding, and wood-working.

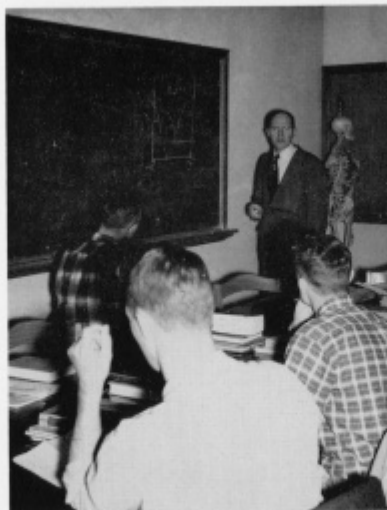

Mr. Robinson conducts one of his many math classes. A variety of math courses are offered, with a student being able to get a degree in mathematics or arts and sciences.

At right, Miss Michaelson supervises a weaving class, one of the many classes offered for Home Economics majors or minors, or to any student on the campus. Many Ellensburg residents enroll in these classes for extra credit, or just for the enjoyment.

Mr. Lind is shown giving a lecture in one of his Science classes. He is the head of the Science and Mathematics Division.

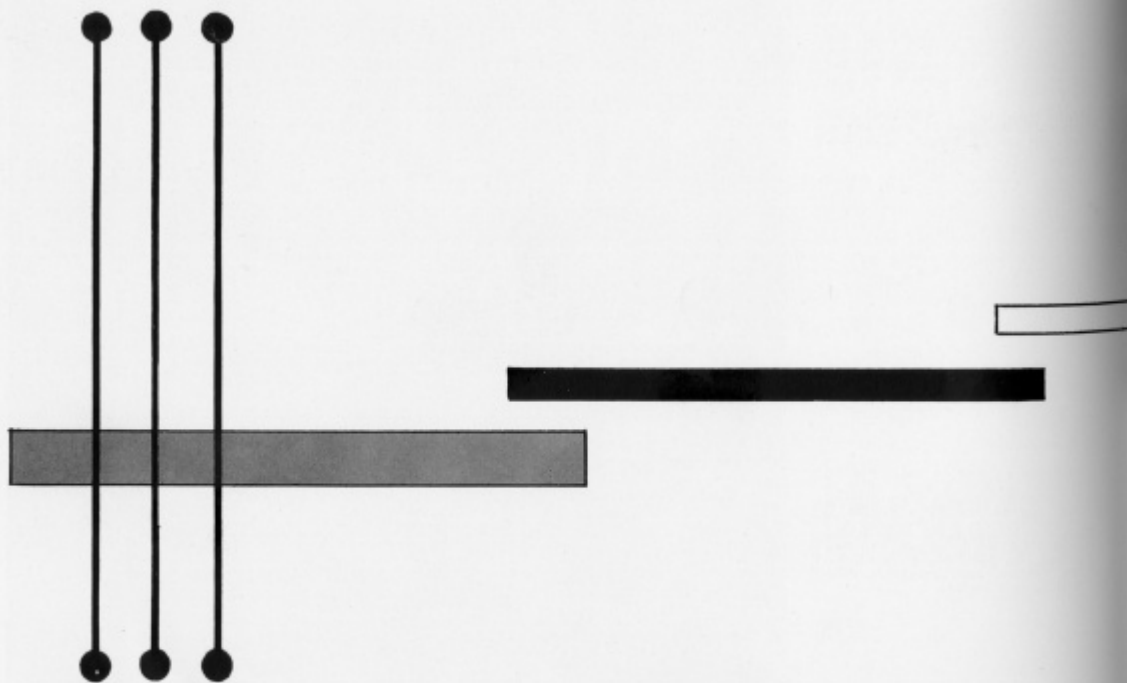

At the right, Dr. Redine shows the relaxed atmosphere of many of the classes, as he delivers another interesting lecture in one of his history classes.

Many experiments are conducted daily in the Science department, this one being a cellophane balloon.

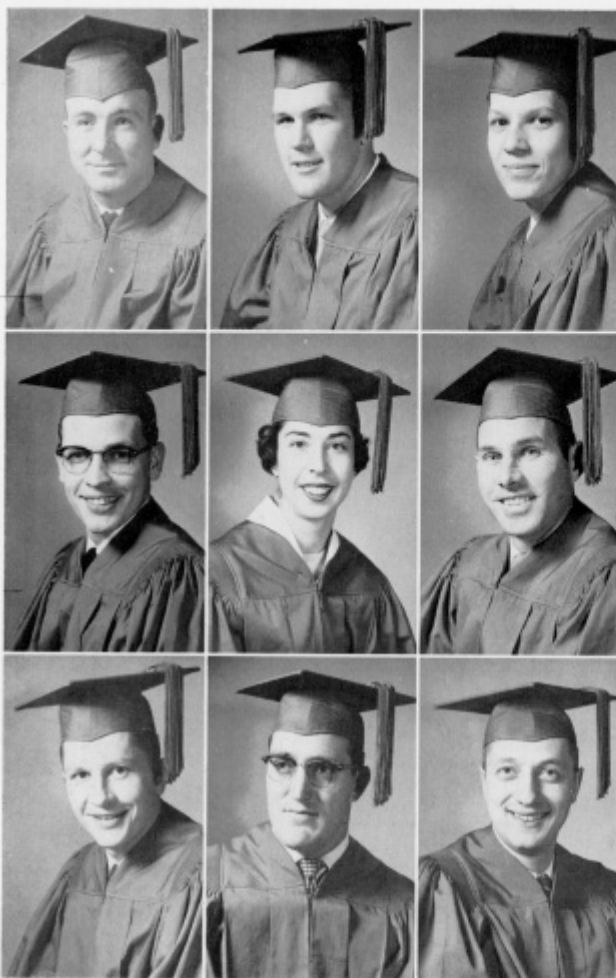

Students enrolled in the AFROTC program at CWCE begin early in the year to practice their drilling, and one of the early checks is shown here, as the freshmen and sophomore men learn what is expected of them. Later, in the spring, the whole group reviews for the officers, after practicing daily and some mornings.

WALTER, RALPH E.: Physical Education; M.A. in Education; Ellensburg, Washington.

WHITNEY, WESTON D.: Guidance and Counseling; M.A. in Education; Bremerton, Washington.

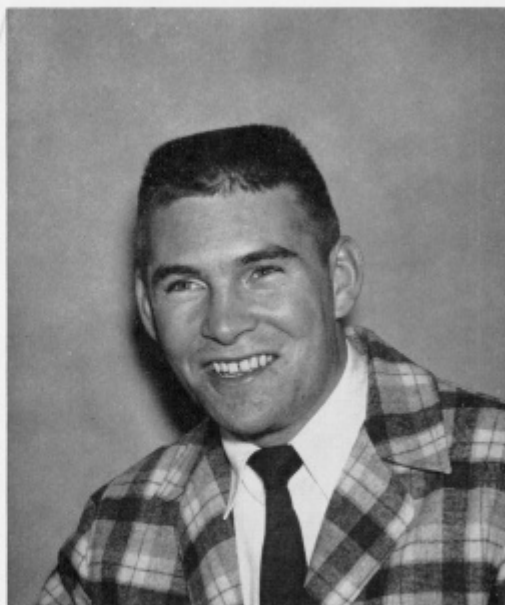

This year finds the greatest amount of students ever to receive Master's degrees in Education. Fifteen students have applied for their degree in June. There are thirty-two working on Master's degrees, two working on fifth year, and six are special students.

This college only offers a Master of Education degree, but there are sixteen special fields for work. The most common field is Administration and Supervision. This may be because the state now requires a Master's degree before a person can receive principal credentials.

The program was started in 1947 and since that time 336 students have graduated with a Master's degree. The special fields were as follows: Administration and Supervision, 145; Guidance and Counseling, 32; Master teacher, 28; Music Education, 22; Health and Physical Education, 19; Audio-Visual Instruction, 16; and Industrial Arts, 15.

Seniors

There were over three hundred desks left empty as the class of '58 marched across the stage. Leading them was the president, Don Mitchell; Bud Richardson, vice-president; Donna Mitchell, secretary; Arlene Van Winkle, treasurer, and Pat Hotsko and Joe Ramseyer, social commissioners.

After concluding the May Prom — given in honor of the seniors by the juniors — the senior banquet with all the festivities of honor and merit, and the four happy and memorable years at Sweezy, the senior class graduated on June 1, 1958.

The rest of the campus will miss these friendly and familiar faces, but they wish these upperclassmen that are going out into the world this year the best of luck.

Juniors

The credit of founding the All-Class Council this year goes to the Junior class. This organization gained the support of its class boosters with its purpose to establish the unity of class bodies on campus. Leading this cabinet were president, Jim Gower; vice-president, Bob Dodge; secretary, Diane Chapman; treasurer, Huberta Peacock; and social commissioners, Sharon Hodges and Pat Watson.

Bringing Russ Morgan's band to the campus for the Junior Prom was a great success. Other activities were participation in WUS Week, weekend SGA dances, and other events. The class received recognition for taking third place in the float competition during Homecoming.

Junior Activity

At the right are shown the students who planned the Junior Prom presented on April 10th in the Commons. The theme of the semi-formal dance was "Sayonara," and Japanese decorations were used throughout, a fish net forming the ceiling. Some of the Juniors who headed the various committees were: John Fuller, adviser, Sandra Snell, Diane Chapman, Janice Kanenwisher. Second row: Jim Gower, Dale Grosche, Norm Geer, Sharon Harris.

Russ Morgan was the featured band leader and also gave an hour-long concert before the dance. This is the fourth year that there has been a name band on the campus. At the right, seated: Susie Kotchkoe, Karen Cole, Betty Foster, Sharon Hodges. Standing: Mick Nelson, Jim Clark, and Keith Foster.

Sophomores

The class of '60 had a very successful year, beginning with their float entry in the Homecoming parade. At the beginning of fall quarter, the sophomore class had a representation of 410 students. A successful drive to collect class dues was very inspiring to all. The class sponsored an SGA mixer which was called the "Sophomore Hop." Concluding the year's activities was the annual dance, "Cupid's Informal" with the crowning of King Cupid.

The cabinet consisted of Rich Cornwell, president; Jack Bond, vice-president; Margie Ziemer, secretary; Nancy Borum, treasurer; and Jean Kraemer and Dick Deane, social commissioners. Dr. Floyd Rodine was elected advisor for the class.

With the theme of "Kupid's Kingdom," the Cupid's Informal dance was in the setting of the garden of King Kupid's castle. Trees surrounded the dance floor and a fountain was in the center. The tickets were heart-shaped and music was supplied by Ron Brumbaugh's Hi-Fi's. (Shown in top picture.) The highlight of the evening was the coronation. Don Mitchell was elected by the girls during the preceding week.

Little Dan Cupid, Jamie Bach, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Frank Bach, preceded the candidates and their dates to the throne. (Shown in the second picture.) The king was crowned by Mrs. Annette Hitchcock, dean of women. (Third picture.)

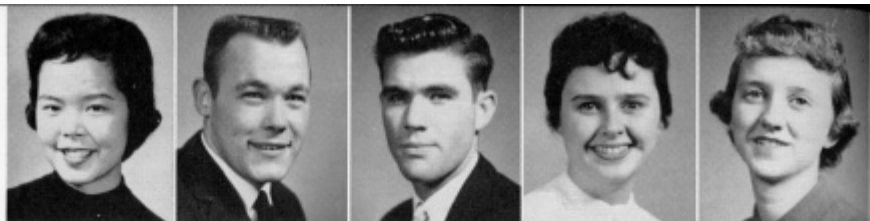

Co-chairmen for the dance were Dick Deane and Jean Kraemer, sophomore class social commissioners. This tolo has been sponsored annually since 1947 by the sophomore class.

Freshmen

At the top is Mel Johnson, the capable president of the freshman class. Below: F. Robinson, adviser; M. Johnson, president; G. Chin, vice president; S. Day, secretary; J. Leopold, treasurer; L. McKenzie, G. Aust, social commissioners.

The freshman class, under the capable leadership of Mel Johnson, president, had a very successful year. All of the members of the class gained unity through their orientation week and the annual initiation activities. Membership in the All-Class Council helped the new students to become acquainted with the campus activities. Participation in Homecoming activities, and sponsoring an SGA dance, "Bermuda Bounce," completed the annual program and started them on their journey up the stairs of the class ladder. They'll be seen next year as sophomores.

Other officers of this class were vice-president, George Chin; secretary, Sandy Day; treasurer, Jim Leopold; and social commissioners, Lynndy McKenzie and Gerry Aust.

At the left are some of the North Hall men who were properly initiated during the regular Freshman initiation week, held the second week of the fall quarter. Some of the men's dorms made it possible for the new students to have the opportunity to become physically fit by doing exercises early in the morning.

There were times when the freshmen didn't know either what they were doing, or where they were going, such as this when they were being led down the stairs to their execution. At least that is what they may have thought. They were all good sports and always did what they were told with a smile.

Many things were asked of the freshmen during the week, everything from crawling on the floor to cleaning the grounds to collecting cardboard for Homecoming signs and floats. Although they have a lot of fun, it is hoped that constructive things can also be done during the initiation time, to help to get a good start in the year and to give the students a feeling of working together toward a goal.

For most of the dormitories, a party is held sometime during or soon after the initiation, to make the new students feel at home in their surroundings and to build a feeling of friendship between the returning and the new students. By this time, it is hoped that the freshmen will feel at home and will be very happy that they chose to attend CWCE. The older students know that they have four happy years ahead of them.

Who's Hugh? The first member to appear in our Who's Who is Hugh Albrecht, past SGA social commissioner and ICC president. Among other accomplishments, he has been on the Student Union Board and the Faculty-Student Coordinating and Planning Group.

Ted Cook is well-known on campus as the house counselor of Montgomery Hall. During his college career he was president of Munro Hall, Whitbeck-Shaw, and Science Club. With his other activities he still maintained high scholastic standards and was chosen as a Grey Gown during his junior year.

Bob Holtz is known on campus for his many talents in music. Among his activities were Sigma Mu Epsilon and Kappa Delta Pi. Bob was House Counselor of Alford Hall in his senior year.

Where did you see Don Blucher? In the pages of Who's Who, because of his activity in Recreation Club, Outdoor Club, Whitbeck-Shaw Club, College Parking Committee, Wilson Hall House Council, Future Teachers of America, Student Government Association, and Band.

David Fitzgerald slid down the bannister into these pages through his activities in Inter Club Council, Munro Hall, Constitution and Election Committee, and Honor Council.

As a freshman, Chuck Hammill was class treasurer. He was on the Student Health Committee. He was a delegate in 1954 to NSA and in 1957 to the WEA convention. During the past year he has served as UCCF president.

George Carberry has been more than the SGA president. He has been active in baseball and has held a leadership and Latham scholarship. This is only since he came to Central. At each of the two colleges he attended, George was a true supporter of the school.

Jama Goodman "sack"ed her position on the pages of Who's Who through her participation in Spurs, her duties as AWS social commissioner, her ability to receive the Carkeek Scholarship and her duties as Kamala Hall treasurer.

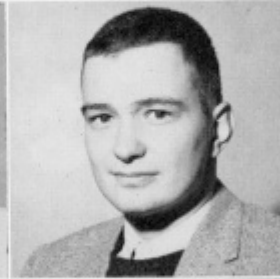

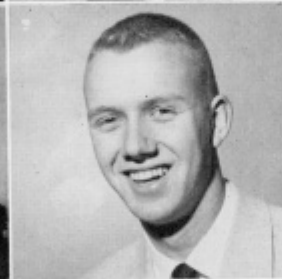

Instead of wandering aimlessly around the campus, Dick Hull climbed the musical stairs to Who's Who through his activities in the Central Singers, Sigma Mu, Band, and choir.

Molly Clough has led an active life while at Sweeney. Honor Council, SNEA vice-president, Student-Faculty Coordinating Board, and the Constitution Committee are among her activities.

S.G.A. not only stands for Student Government Association, but for Sigma Mu, Girls' Trio, and Arts Degree in Education—the organization, activity, and degree in which Marilyn Grove excelled.

Pat Kelleher was Spur historian during her Sophomore year and junior class social commissioner. She has been active in Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Mu, IRC, Young Democrats, and Inter-Club Council.

Twenty-three Named to Who's Who Among

Grace Keesling was elected AWS president at the end of her junior year for her outstanding personality and ability. During her senior year, she was elected president of Kappa Delta Pi. She was also on honor council.

On every rung of Don Mitchell's ladder is a successful activity. His climb included president of the senior class, chairman of the dining hall committee, treasurer of Wilson Hall, and chairman of Homecoming 1956. He was elected King Cupid this year, too.

During her Sophomore year Sylvia Jones was a member of Spurs. She has been on the Model United Nations Delegation. Other activities include IRC secretary, Campus Crier assistant, associate, summer editor, and Hyakem staff.

A varied and active life was led by Gene Luft during his college career. A few of his activities were SGA Council, Wilson Hall officer, Crier Editor, and English Club vice president.

SGA really "perked" with Dave Perkins as vice president this last year. As a junior he became a member of Kappa Delta Pi and was chosen as a Grey Gown. Dave has been sports editor of both the Crier and the Hyakem and has been active in Band, SNEA, and an outstanding ROTC officer.

Climbing up the stairs of Sweetcy, Ted Wood slipped on the rug and fell right into the pages of Who's Who. Along with him went his work as Young Republican president and secretary of Science Club. He earned the Dennis Farrell Memorial pre-medicine scholarship.

One of the most active campus leaders at Central has been Marilyn Mannie. She has been president of Munson Hall, AWS secretary, chairman of Honor Council, and secretary of Rec Club. She held the Munson scholarship for two years.

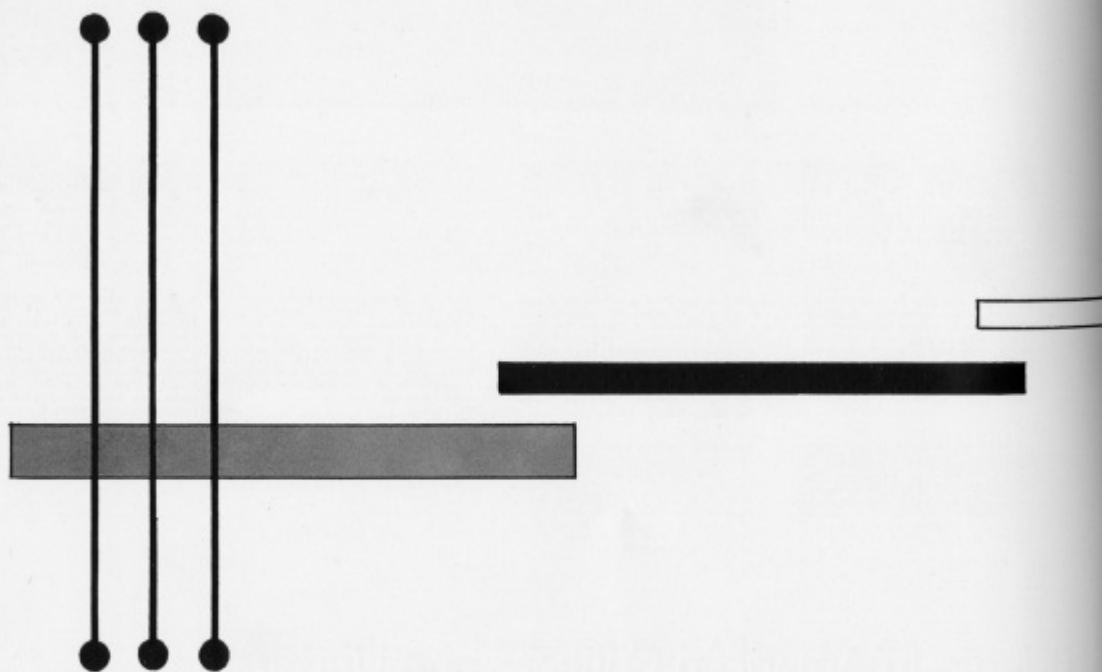

Jim Richardson, better-known as "Bud," was Homecoming Variety Show co-chairman in 1957. He was on the Student Union Board and has been Coordinator, Regional vice president, and educational travel representative of the National Student Association.

In and out of the music building goes Norma Woodard. Sigma Mu Epsilon, Central Singers, and Maskers and Jesters are the reasons why. Also among Norma's activities are the play, "Time Out for Ginger," and "The Song of Bernadette."

Remember the smiling face in the post office window that never looked harassed during the rush hour? That was Dale Mitchell who climbed right out of that window during his senior year into Who's Who. During his junior year, he served as SGA vice president.

S is for secretary of Central Women's Students; M is for Mother of four; I is for Inter-Club Council; T is for treasurer of English Club, and H is for Hyakem staff member; put them all together, they spell Smith—Barbara Smith, a student who has contributed much inspiration to CWCE.

S.G.A. Approves

I am sincerely thankful that the students of Central Washington College saw fit to put me in the position of president of SGA for this year. I am even more thankful for their judgment in selecting the remainder of the SGA Council, for it is that body which has made my job an extreme pleasure.

It goes without saying that nobody can accomplish much without the full support of the people he represents. I feel that we received this support this year.

I feel that there are many things that we will leave undone; however, I also believe that we have accomplished much in this one short year. I am sure our accomplishments will be improved and expanded upon in the years to come.

George Carberry

At the left is Dave Perkins, the efficient and hard-working SGA vice president for the 1957-58 school year. Among his many duties was the handling of all of the student government finances. However, under the new constitution, this job will be done by a treasurer and the vice president will assume the duties of the social commissioner.

Marilyn Grove, lower left, has completed a very fine year as the SGA secretary. Besides her many duties in taking notes and recording all SGA proceedings, she has been the chairman of the Election Committee and very ably handled all of the SGA elections, beginning with the class elections in the fall, through the Honor Council elections, and the large general election in the spring.

Below is Marty Budzius, SGA social commissioner, who did so much to make the social life of the campus active and stimulating for the many students. He was chairman of several new committees which functioned for the campus, among them being the social committee, all-class council, and the new Co-rec program. It has been a busy year, with appearances of the Four Freshmen and the Hi-Lo's as special features.

New Constitution

Some of the purposes of SGA are to represent the students, to promote college-community relations, and to represent the school with other colleges. This was accomplished by passing a new set of by-laws, handling frosh week activities, sponsoring Homecoming, and sponsoring the leadership retreat. SGA also sponsored Dad's Day, the blood drive, and the Four Freshman Concert. They also furnished money for the Crier, drama, MUN, music, PE program, student post office, complete social program, Home Economics, and summer school.

Dave Annonen, North Hall representative
Mike Austin, Quads representative
Joy Barsotti, Sue Lombard representative
Bill Bergsma, Kennedy Hall representative
Karen Cole, Off Campus representative
Ernest DeRocher, Vetville representative
Gene Luft, Campus Crier Editor
Alice Mason, Munson Hall representative
Jerrold Wenger, Off Campus representative
Gladys Weston, Kamola Hall representative
Monte Wilson, Wilson Hall representative

The members of the Honor Council for the 1967-68 school year were left to right: Bonnie Munz, Marilyn Stark, George Carberry, Marilyn Mannie, chairman, David Fitzgerald, Don Standley, and Molly Clough, secretary.

Seated: S. Hodges, P. Hotsko, S. Harris, J. Kraemer, S. Cox.

Standing: D. Heini, G. Voges, D. Zander, B. Arneberg, A. Hitchcock, J. Thrasher, M. Johnson, R. Brumbaugh, G. Luft, B. Glover, J. Sheridan, L. Sundholm, J. Lyons, D. Harris, M. Budzius.

HONOR COUNCIL

The Honor Council consists of six members, three men and three women who are elected by the student body. Two men and two women are elected in February and the remaining two are elected during the spring term. These members must be either juniors or seniors. This year Marilyn Mannie was the chairman, and Molly Clough was the secretary. The SGA president, George Carberry, was an honorary member. The Council handled student problems, such as drinking and speeding.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Inter-Club Council is composed of all club presidents connected with the college and the social commissioners or vice-presidents. The purpose is to set up the social calendar and straighten out any social problems that arise on campus or set up social etiquette. ICC sponsored the Colonial Ball spring quarter. Marty Budzius, SGA social chairman, was the chairman, and Sandra Cox was the secretary. The meetings were held twice each month.

STUDENT-FACULTY PLANNING COORDINATING BOARD

The real purpose of the Student-Faculty Planning and Coordinating Board is to provide for the discussion of pertinent campus problems and to plan for handling them. The motions passed usually consist of recommendations to other groups or persons for handling certain problems. The Board has and is providing for better student-faculty relationships through the give-and-take of informal discussions on problems of interest to the entire college. A majority of the members hold membership by virtue of their offices or position; however, seven members are appointed — four students and three faculty members.

UNION BOARD

Members of the Union Board are the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women, a faculty member at large, a representative of each class appointed by the SGA, the CUB manager, Mrs. Schnebly, and the ex-officio members, the SGA president and social commissioner. The purpose of this group is policy making. Their goal for this year was planning how to combine and remodel the old gym as part of the union building.

Members of the Student Faculty Coordinating Board were: seated: M. Dunnington, G. Keesling, N. Borum, A. Hitchcock.

Standing: D. Perkins, M. Budzius, G. Robertson, E. Samuelson, chairman, G. Luft, and G. Fetter.

B. Miller, D. Edwards, M. Budzius, G. Carberry, D. Stinson, O. Schnebly, A. Hitchcock, T. Wood.

CUB RECREATION COMMITTEE

Marty Budzius, Social Commissioner, was the chairman of the CUB Recreation committee, one of the standing SGA committees. Its purpose is to plan the activities for the CUB. Bingo parties have been the main activity during the year, but these proved to be highly successful.

DORMITORY LIFE AND DINING HALL COMMITTEE

Twelve students and five adults make up the Dormitory Life and Dining Hall Committee which meets once a month to discuss problems relative to dormitory living and dining hall eating.

The committee is a co-ordinating committee between the students and the Director of Dormitory Life and Dining Hall Affairs. Its main purpose is to promote an understanding between these two, so that each is familiar with the duties, problems, and so forth of the other. Kenneth Courson is chairman, and Gaynell Johnson is director.

Seated in the small banquet room of the Commons, where the regular meetings were held are the members of the Dormitory Life and Dining Hall Committee. Left to right, they are: J. Ware, M. Short, L. Fletcher, D. Stinson, D. Blucher, B. Holtz, M. Bar-rus, G. Hais, G. Johnson, S. Harris, A. Mason, J. Decker, B. Jamison, and B. Hagemeyer.

Members of the Cub Recreation Committee were: D. Grosche, R. Brumbaugh, C. Willoughby, M. Budzius, and D. Edwards.

Those responsible for keeping the elections running smoothly and honestly were: M. Barrus, S. Street, M. Grove, and B. Miller.

Seated: L. Labberton, K. Foss.
Standing: J. Hamill, D. Perkins, C. Foster.

ELECTION COMMITTEE

Another of the standing committees of the SGA is the Election committee, headed by the SGA secretary, Marilyn Grove. This committee is responsible for the securing of voting equipment, maintaining order at the polls, distributing and collecting absentee ballots, the presence of clerks at the polls, publicizing the elections, and for tabulating election results. During the past year, this committee also handled the class elections, and as in years before, the Honor Council elections. There is a representative from each class, a freshman and junior being selected each year and all members serving a two-year term.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Dave Perkins, SGA vice president, was the chairman of the Finance committee during the past year. Four members comprise the committee, and they are selected in the same manner as the Election committee. The duties of this committee are to set up the budget and to help manage the $65,000, which is in their care. This is a standing committee of the Student Government Association.

Seated: L. McKenzie, J. Kraemer, S. Day, P. Hotsko, S. Hedges, H. Peacock, A. Van Winkle.
Standing: M. Johnson, S. Spurgeon, J. Leopold, N. Borum, F. Robinson, G. Aust, J. Fuller, G. Chin, F. Rodine, D. Mitchell, D. Deane, J. Bond, R. Cornwell, J. Gower, M. Ziemer.

S. Miller, J. Clark, N. Borum, D. Harris, J. Kanenwisher, M. Budzius.

ALL-CLASS COUNCIL

The purpose of the All-Class Council, formed this year by the social commissioner, was to give more meaning to those holding a class office. The council was composed of all of the officers of the four classes and their advisers. Mel Johnson served as the able chairman of the group. One of the main accomplishments for this year has been the collecting of class dues in a more efficient manner, being done during the registration of all students.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Marty Budzius, social commissioner, organized a Social committee this year, which is to be a standing committee of SGA. It had a two-fold purpose; to take part of the load from the Social Commissioner and to give more people a chance to work in SGA. The committee consisted of a movie chairman, dance chairman, social calendar chairman, publicity chairman, properties chairman, and any other members that the chairman felt necessary to the functioning of the committee. It has been an active committee and has proved its worth in its one year trial.

CO-REC COMMITTEE

Through the efforts of the Physical Education department, a Co-Rec committee was formed during the winter quarter. Its purpose was to provide for recreation for all students and faculty members each Saturday afternoon from 1-4 p.m. Virginia Rice was the chairman. Mrs. McCabe and Mr. Nylander were the advisers and helped to sponsor such activities as ping-pong, shuffle board, badminton, chess, cards, fencing, tennis, softball, and many others. It was hoped that the program, held in the women's gym, would become traditional, and be an aid to the students.

BEAUTIFICATION COMMITTEE

Through the office of the SGA vice president, Dave Perkins, a beautification committee was formed this year for the purpose of making proposals to the college and the administration, to help to beautify the campus. Val Furlong was chosen as the chairman and he and his committee spent much time considering possibilities for the repairing and "dressing up" of the campus. A number of posters were distributed on the campus during the spring quarter, admonishing students to "stay off the grass." This committee is a proposed standing committee of the SGA.

Seated: Diane Liberty, Sharon Hodges, Virginia Rice.

Standing: Dave Annonen, Mickey Barus, Val Furlong, unidentified, Fred Brown.

Seated: Z. McKay, H. Peacock, B. Axall.
Standing: B. Stidwell, P. Maher, V. Furlong, J. Bond.

AWS Sponsors "Best Dressed Coed" Contest

Where did you say that extra fifty cents went? It was for Associated Women Students dues. This is an organization to which all girls enrolled at Central automatically and proudly belong. Among the varied and interesting activities were the Sno Ball Tolo, sponsoring Mother's Day in the spring, sponsoring the best dressed coed contest and taking charge of the Homecoming queen activities.

To lead such an organization very efficient officers were needed. These were Grace Keesling, president; Mary Luce, vice-president; Sandra Cox, secretary; Dana Byfield, treasurer; Huberta Peacock, social commissioner; and Mary Brown, courtesy chairman.

One of the projects of AWS for the year was sponsoring a contest to determine who should be "Miss Best Dressed Coed," to compete nationally in a Glamour magazine contest. Below, the contestants check the qualifications. They were: Anne Nachatelo, Betty Foster, and Alicia Lundberg, seated; Pat Hartman, Mary Luce, AWS chairman, and Sharon G. Johnson.

Grace Keesling, President

Members of the AWS council for the 1957-58 year were: J. Kanenwisher, J. Lyons, S. Harris, S. Snell, and R. Bedard, seated. Standing: D. Byfield, M. Luce, S. Cox, B. Wiley, G. Keesling, M. Mathewson, A. Hitchcock, and H. Peacock.

Central's Women Students Give Scholarship

Central's Women Students' organization provides a social hour every month for mature women students on campus. Their activities include a banquet and a picnic in the spring.

The alumni group that has grown out of this organization provides a scholarship for one member of Central's Women Students currently enrolled at Central. A summer picnic is also sponsored by the alumni.

Officers were Mrs. Dorothy McPhillips, president; Mrs. Barbara Smith, vice-president; and Mrs. Velda Hobbs, secretary-treasurer. Faculty sponsor was Miss Mabel Anderson.

Dorothy McPhillips, President

One of the projects of the group was wrapping Christmas gifts during the holidays, thus enabling them to do something constructive, as well as having a social meeting.

Kappa Delta Pi Honors Ed Rogel

Kappa Delta Pi is an honorary organization with the purpose of promoting and maintaining high standards for its members. New members are invited into the club twice each year and are given a pledge breakfast, where the tapping takes place. About two weeks later, a formal initiation is held and new members of Junior or Senior standing are welcomed as full members. Members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, activities in college, leadership, and professional promise in the field of teaching. The local chapter, the Delta Omicron chapter, is a member of the national organization. Special speakers were scheduled for each of the meetings, some of them leaving members with new ideas to explore. The chapter sent Jan Kanenwisher and Alice Mason to the National Convocation in Chicago in March.

In charge of following the prescribed ritual were Grace Keesling, president; Roberta Caldwell, vice-president; Rosemary Faust, secretary; Bob Holtz, treasurer; and Mary Ellin Stark, historian.

At the winter quarter formal initiation, Grace Keesling is shown congratulating Mr. Edward Rogel, who was initiated as an honorary member of the chapter because of his outstanding work at CWCE. Each year the group is allowed to initiate a limited number of faculty members.

Spur "Spur-o-grams" Add Interest to Campus

The Central Washington Chapter of Spurs has been doing an outstanding job this past year on campus. Spurs were installed on the campus by the College of Puget Sound Chapter on February 4, 1949. Spurs is a service organization, and honors dependability, unselfishness, scholarship, and a sense of democracy. Each spring there are thirty girls tapped for Spurs on the basis of activities, scholarship, and personality.

The officers for this year were president, Judy Lyons; vice president, Jacque Sonderman; secretary, Veda Welsh; treasurer, Carol Watson; editor, Jan Crooks; and historian, Amy Lou Young.

The Spur uniform has been seen at many college functions including Freshman Orientation, ushering, selling tickets in the CUB booth, the jail for WUS week in the CUB, and probably most outstanding were the Spur-O-Grams sent out on Valentine's Day. The Spur motto is "At Your Service," and they really work hard to live up to it.

Judy Lyons, President

Showing their pep and enthusiasm, the Spurs are shown drilling at one of the last home basketball games. Much time and effort went into the perfecting of their routine. This is the second year that the Spurs have performed for the school in this way.

Row 1: A. Young, C. Watson, V. Welsh, J. Lyons, J. Sonderman, J. Crooks, D. Turner, C. Willoughby, Mrs. McCabe.

Sigma Tau Alpha Girls Wear New Outfits

Another organization strictly for the fair sex is Sigma Tau Alpha. The purpose of this group is to render service to the school and the students. This last year they made a Homecoming sign, took part in orientation week activities, were hostesses at the reception for the freshmen and their parents, were hostesses for the CUB Christmas party, helped with elections, had a picnic and roller skating party. Besides doing all these things, this active organization found time to sell candied apples at football games, sponsored a Christmas basket for a needy family, and had an initiation and Christmas party.

Leading this up-and-coming group were Marjorie Gilkison, president; Pat Hartman, vice-president; Charlotte Satterstrom, secretary; Rosalie Ewing, treasurer; Julie Stratford, musician; Jacque Nielson, chaplain; and Marilyn Shukis, social commissioner.

At the end of their formal initiation, Sigma Tau girls are shown enjoying refreshments in a "dressed up" atmosphere, apart from their uniforms, used in service to the college this year.

Alpha Phi Omega Boys Erect Signs

In its ninth year on Central's campus, the Alpha Phi Omega organization, composed of former Boy Scouts, met regularly as a service group for the campus.

Following the erection of a homecoming sign, the fellows went on to present their annual Handsome Harry Dance held in conjunction with Dad's Day.

To help beautify the campus, the Omegas designed and posted identification signs on the campus buildings. As another annual event, they also provided transportation for visitors coming to the campus for Senior Day.

Jack Parcell was president of the group; John Moawad, vice-president; Henry Tunes, secretary; Bill Raschkow, treasurer; Walt Pugsley, historian; and Dr. Samuelson, adviser.

Jack Parcell, President

One of the services performed by the Alpha Phi Omega members was the erection of signs denoting the various buildings on campus. Working on these good-looking and helpful signs are J. Parcell, D. Annonen, H. Tunes, and J. Theriault.

Pep Club Girls Sell Lollipops, Cheer Teams

Although the Pep Club didn't have many activities, they were the girls in the red sweaters sitting in the bleachers rain or shine showing that good old PEP. The team owes much of its support to these girls. Besides being loyal to Sweecy Tech, they also sold lollipops at the basketball games.

Leading this peppy club were Verna Williams, president; Jacque Sonderman, vice-president; Louella Lamb, secretary; and Rita Long, treasurer.

At the right are four of the members of the "W" Club, who helped to usher at the many athletic contests during the year. This was one of the many services of the club.

Homecoming Programs Sold by Crimson "W"

The Crimson "W" Club is an organization for varsity letter winners. One of the major accomplishments of the year was to change the style of the jackets. They are now longer, with roll-up collar with stripes representing the number of letters that the member has earned. The other activities were printing programs, taking tickets, and ushering at all games.

Officers for this organization were: Jim Thrasher, president; Gary Lee, vice-president; Darrell DeGross, secretary-treasurer; Clayton Evans, social chairman; and Mr. Wolfsehr, adviser.

State Convention Hosted by Young Republicans

Climbing up the Central stairway were the campus political organizations. One of these was the Young Republicans. Although they may be on different sides of the political fence, the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans enjoyed a joint talk on Sputnik and a debate on current affairs. The Young Republicans were also host to the Washington State College Young Republican's convention which was held in Ellensburg. A political workshop in the spring at which leading Republicans of the state were present was also on the agenda. Films and speakers rounded out the activities of the year.

Leading the club in the fight for the Republican party were Dave Harris, president; Jean Notman, vice-president; Karen Ludlow, secretary; Nancy Debar, treasurer; and Mr. Bauer, adviser.

Political Workshop Co-sponsored by Young Demos

Staunchly standing on the Democratic side of the political fence were Mike Austin, president; Dave Mesojednick, vice-president; Virginia Millering, secretary; Barbara Weitz, treasurer; Sandra Day, social commissioner; and Dr. Odell, adviser, the leaders of the Young Democrats.

Along with their political foes, the Young Republicans, the Young Democrats sponsored a Wednesday night mixer, a trip to Olympia, and a political workshop in the spring. On their agenda for the past year were a series of informal debates, Mock Parliament at the University of Washington, various guest speakers, and a panel discussion on "Sputnik — American Eight Ball."

Members of this music honorary are shown planning for the surprise reception, held on the 30th of March in honor of Mr. Wayne Hertz and his 25 years of teaching. It was a formal reception in the CUB, with singing by the Sigma Mu Epsilon choir and a short "This Is Your Life" skit for Mr. Hertz.

Sigma Mu Epsilon Honors Wayne Hertz

Sigma Mu Epsilon continued to make students' appreciation and enjoyment of music climb. They accomplished this by first making an effort to further their professional standing and outlook in the field of music. This purpose was brought out through panels, lectures, discussions, and demonstrations at the meetings. Then Sigma Mu took music to the students by sponsoring choral competition, singing at the CUB Christmas party, ushering at all music functions, and sponsoring the Community Concert Reception.

Leading this group through chords of work were Twylla Gibb, president; Wayne Calkins, vice-president; Mary Luce, secretary; Phyllis Reynolds, treasurer; Sonja Zamzow, historian; Wayne Hunziker, social commissioner; and Mr. Bray, adviser.

One of the outstanding floats in the Homecoming parade was the one erected by Kappa Pi members. Much time and work went into this giant logging scene, and perhaps it helped to set the stage for the "downing" of the CPS Loggers in the annual game.

Oil paints, water colors, enamel, mosaic, and plaster paris were some of the mediums used in the Art Bazaar sponsored by Kappa Pi. Along with this, Kappa Pi sponsored a Wednesday night mixer and the Beaux Arts Ball. At the meetings, slides or movies concerning art were presented, and fireside get-togethers at the homes of the art instructors were enjoyed. One special event was an outdoor trip to Vantage.

Bravely climbing to the Art Department on the fourth floor of the Administration building were Jim Lundquist, president; Nat Olney, vice-president; Iris Marinsic, secretary; Margy Hedman, treasurer; Dana Byfield, social commissioner; and Mr. Bach, adviser.

Student National Education Association Hosts

There is no longer an F.T.A. Chapter on campus, for the official title is now S.N.E.A. (Student National Education Association.) Again the future teachers were the largest organization at Central.

The main activities fall quarter were: constructing a Homecoming sign, holding a Halloween Party, publicizing "American Education Week", initiation of new members, and a Christmas Party. A variety of meetings included a lecture by Mr. Ken Elfbrandt, who spoke on professional organizations in the educational field; Dr. McConnell expressed his thoughts concerning S.N.E.A. and its place on our campus; a mock interview, led by Mr. Martin, Superintendent of the Yakima Public School District; and two educational films, "Not By Chance" and "Mike Makes His Mark", were shown. During the month of November, the Eastern District Conference was held at EWCE. Molly Clough was elected Eastern District Coordinator.

Something new was started winter quarter. The club voted to provide for a scholarship to be awarded each year to some outstanding future teacher. The chapter hosted the Eastside Regional Conference, sent delegates to the Westside Convention, sponsored a dance, participated in "Club Day" of WUS Week with "The Favorite Teacher Contest", and held a formal initiation ceremony for new members.

One of the highlights of the December social meeting was a reception in honor of Molly Clough, newly elected Eastside coordinator of WAFTA. She is shown here cutting the cake which was served following a "This Is Your Life" skit for her.

Regional Meet; Molly Clough, Coordinator

Interesting meetings consisted of a lecture by Dr. Maurice Pettit on "Certification", Mr. Oakland spoke on "Placement and Salaries", and Miss Ramona Solberg showed slides and spoke about her experiences in Norway. The club entertained the Pasco F.T.A. Chapter, attended the State W.A.F.T.A. Convention, and held the annual S.N.E.A. banquet in May.

Meetings for Spring quarter consisted of a lecture by Elsa Nordin, the W.E.A. President, who spoke on "Professional Ethics", and an educational film entitled, "A Desk For Billy" was shown.

Dorothy Heini ably led the group through the successful year. Her officers were: Vice President, Molly Clough, with Bob Pieruccini substituting winter quarter; Corresponding Secretary, Marjorie Gilkison; Recording Secretary, Donna Turner, fall quarter, and Margaret Parmelee, winter and spring quarters. Treasurer was Bob Feuchter with Mel Lindauer substituting fall quarter. Reporter was Dorothy Dedrick. Donna Cavadini served as Historian winter quarter and Deanne Smith served fall quarter. Social Commissioners were Dana Byfield and Dick Hull fall quarter, while Shari Mekosky and Del Zander served winter and spring quarters. Librarian was Florence Erickson. Shirley Radke substituted fall quarter. Advisers were Dr. A. Hamilton Howard and Miss Ramona Solberg.

During the regional convention which Central's chapter hosted in March, a luncheon was served for ninety delegates. Larry Bowen, past president of the Smyser-Whitney chapter, was the guest speaker. During the convention, Huberta Peacock was nominated as the Eastside candidate for state vice president.

Arnold Air Society Sponsors Military Ball

Arnold Air Society is a national honorary society for advanced AFROTC Cadets. Its purpose is to further the mission of the Air Force at the college and university level by encouraging greater teamwork, development of technical knowledge, cooperation, and esprit de corps.

An initiation dinner followed by a dance was held at the American Legion Vista House during fall quarter. The Cadet Lounge was worked on in the ROTC building. The carpenters and designers also entered a sign in the Homecoming activities. The main event of the year was the sponsoring of the annual Military Ball during winter quarter.

Major Schwendiman was adviser for the group. Officers were Tom Pugh, Commander; John Tyner, Executive; Cliff Filleau, Operations; Wayne Roe, Adjutant Recorder; Tom Sharpe, Comptroller; Pat McNeil, ISO; and Gary Robbins, Assistant ISO.

Officers are shown standing at attention, as the royal couples are escorted to the throne for the crowning of Queen Pat Hartman, at the annual Military Ball, the most formal of all of the dances at CWCE. The queen is chosen by the ROTC officers, and the formal announcement of the selection is made by the Campus Crier.

Dr. Barto Speaks at Sabre Flight Banquet

Tom Pratt, with the help of his executive officers, commanded the activities of the Sabre Air Command. These activities were: Sabre Air Command Banquet at which there was a guest speaker, films, and oaths taken by the new members; flights to San Francisco; field trip to Othello Radar Station and to McChord Air Force Base; car wash; hayride; and Sabre Air Command Traffic Patrol where selected members of the Sabre Flight were under guidance of the city police to help with traffic congestion.

The other executive officers were Ross Pfann, Ex-Officer; Don Trimble, Adjutant; Larry Bartroff, Comptroller; Bill Jamison, Operations Officer; Jerry Reitan, Information Services; and Captain Molchior, adviser.

Dr. Barto provided many laughs as the guest speaker at the annual banquet sponsored by Sabre Flight before the Military Ball. The banquet is an annual affair held in a local restaurant.

Herodoteans Sponsor "Books for Asia" Drive

"Boy, are these good!" is the exclamation most commonly heard at the Waffle breakfast put on by the Herodoteans. This is an annual event. Another event that shows how the members like to eat is the bean feed that was held in the city park. The members of Herodoteans are students that have received superior grades in upper division history classes. This was their thirty-fifth year of existence on this campus. This year Herodoteans sponsored "Books for Asia." Four hundred books were sent to needy students, and books not suitable for sending were sold for WUS week.

Officers of this organization were Lyle Martin, president; Dennis Shiroma, vice-president; Marilyn Furman, secretary; Barbara Tunes, treasurer; Dennis Shiroma, social commissioner; and Dr. Mohler, adviser.

At left: Charles LeSeuer, president. Right: Marilyn Furman was one of the members of this history honorary who sold books for Asian students during World University Service Week. This was a very successful venture and profitable to both the students and WUS.

Mine President Speaks to Whitbeck-Shaw Group

The Whitbeck-Shaw Club, under the able supervision of Dr. Robert Funderburk and Dr. Martin Kaatz, is an organization for students interested in geography.

With Jack Sheridan, president, at the helm, the Whitbeck-Shaw Club has had an eventful year of activities. The Club sponsored a fall-quarter mixer, built and erected a Homecoming sign, and planned a field trip during Spring Quarter.

Appearing at the regular meetings were speakers who spoke on subjects of special interest to the members. A few highlights of their meetings were a talk given by Mrs. Annette Hitchcock, Dean of Women, about her summer trip to Europe and "Geography in the High Schools" given by Dr. Oppleman and Mr. Vancil from Ellensburg High School.

Officers who assisted Jack Sheridan were Russ Carlson, vice-president; and Marjorie Gilkison, secretary-treasurer.

At left, the members of this geography honorary listen to one of the many speakers of the year who described various geographical regions and topics of interest. At right: Jack Sheridan, president.

Homecoming Corsages Sold by Home Ec Club

The Home Economics Club really steps out when it comes to supporting an activity. During the year they sold corsages for Homecoming, cookies for WUS week, and cookies for any club that needed or wanted some. They did more than just sell things too. They held a mixer, a breakfast for the graduating seniors, and an open house for Mother's Day. The members of this club are home economics majors and minors seeking more information in their profession.

The chief homemaker was Sharon Harris, assisted by Marjorie Turkovich, vice-president; Darlene Allen, secretary; Myrna Shaver, treasurer; Cherie Rutledge, social commissioner; Lois Reese, historian; Sally McCullough, cookie chairman; and Miss Ware, adviser.

Members of the Industrial Arts Club spend many hours working on projects in the shop, ranging from delicate jewelry to large pieces of furniture. Most of the members plan to teach Industrial Arts after graduation.

Christmas Gifts Made and Sold by I.A. Club

One of the big events enjoyed by the Industrial Arts Club this year was the banquet attended by the members and their wives or girlfriends. The members held work parties in the shop around Christmas time preparing peg boards, cutting boards, pottery, and plastics which were sold in the CUB prior to Christmas vacation. It was a tremendous sale and very successful.

Mr. Glenn Hogue, head of Fine and Industrial Arts Department, is assisted by Mr. Stanley Dudley, Mr. Wilhelm Bakke, and Mr. Legg in directing the activities of the Club. Al Franko, president, was aided by Sidney Earl, vice-president; John Tyner, secretary; and Edwin Woodiwiss, treasurer.

I.R.C. Members Discuss International Problems

Promoting interest in International affairs is one of the main objectives of the International Relations Club. A lively discussion of current affairs continues throughout their meetings, which are held every second and fourth Wednesday of the month.

During the year, IRC sponsored a Wednesday night mixer and was host to an International Student Relations Seminar in March. The club is now working on a new constitution.

The leaders of this club were Delores Mueller, president; Mike Austin, vice president; Sharon Johnson, secretary; John Hooper, treasurer; and Jack Watson, social commissioner. Dr. Elwyn Odell is the adviser.

Cosmopolitan Club Designed for Foreign Students

The primary purpose of the Cosmopolitan Club is to foster better relationships between the International students and the United States students. The countries and territories represented by the membership were Hawaii, Germany, Latvia, Alaska, Japan, and the United States. The activities of this club were in the form of talks given mainly by the members of their homeland. Several members of the faculty also gave talks and showed slides. The Cosmopolitan Club sponsored a cook-fest and a hot-dog roast.

Officers at the beginning of the year were Charles Foster, president; Jerry Bolton, vice-president and social chairman; Gertrude Voges, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Samuelson, adviser.

LARRY PATTERSON, President

Psychology Club Designed for Understanding of Mankind

The purpose of one of the newer clubs on campus, the Psychology club, is to further interest and promote better understanding in the field of psychology. Students interested in psychology met regularly during the year to hear speakers on various topics such as the role of psychology in different vocational areas. Records and tape recordings illustrating cases and current topics were played to form the basis for open discussion.

Winter quarter the club sponsored a trip to Lakeland Village and Medical Lake Hospital. During the spring quarter, proposed activities were trips to the Hoover School and the Selah Hospital for mentally retarded children.

Larry Patterson led this group during the year, with the assistance of Dr. E. E. Jacobsen, as adviser.

Many hours of work and study were spent before the delegation left for the University of Washington as the representatives of the United Kingdom.

Model United Nations Group Represents United Kingdom

The United Kingdom was very well represented at the Model United Nations Conference at the University of Washington April 23-26, by the CWCE delegates. In addition to representing the United Kingdom, the group aided Yakima Valley Junior College start an MUN program and helped them in their representation of Norway. Among their other activities were sponsoring a float for the Homecoming parade, speaking to about thirty-five different groups in Central Washington to explain the program, plus three television performances.

The purpose of MUN is to help students understand more fully the significance of the United Nations and it does this through active participation in simulated UN situations and through conscientious research and study of the UN. Preparation was begun last June, with the chairman, Jack Watson, and the vice chairman, Mike Austin. Work has continued throughout the year, with sixty-five students at the first meeting. Sixteen were chosen as the delegates. Dr. Elwyn Odell was the able adviser for another year.

PHREMMS Hold Annual High School Sports Day

PHREMMS is a professional organization for all women physical, health, and recreation education majors and minors. Among PHREMMS' various activities was the Freshman Orientation. They had professional speakers at some of the meetings held during fall quarter. With this excellent start winter quarter found them sponsoring a Christmas party for both men and women and a Wednesday night dance. Spring quarter the members of PHREMMS were seen in sport clothes washing cars and sponsoring a High School Sports Day.

Leading this group in their activities and their professional growth were Bonnie Arneberg, president; Marjorie Benton, vice-president; Beverly Loudon with Rosella Phillips, as substitute, secretary; Cheri Rutledge, treasurer; Virginia Rice, social commissioner and publicity chairman; and Mrs. Helen McCabe, adviser.

Basketball is one of the many sports in which the members of PHREMMS participate, as the professional group of physical education majors and minors.

Intramural Sports Boosted, Sponsored by WRA

WRA stands for Women's Recreation Association. The purpose of this organization is to provide an opportunity for any girl enrolled at Central Washington College of Education to participate in sports activities and to promote better fellowship and interest in the activities of the club by giving each participant an opportunity to take part whole heartedly in group and individual activities for girls.

Their activities include intramural sports between the dormitories and off-campus. They play volleyball, softball, and basketball.

Behind the ball in every game were president Pat Lacey; vice-president, Janet Homer; treasurer, Janet Homer; secretary, Sharon Brown; social commissioner, Carol Garinger; fall sports managers, Beverly Clark and Virginia Rice; winter sports manager, Veda Welsh; spring sports manager, Marge Sweet; and adviser, Miss Scahill.

Volleyball, basketball, and softball were among the sports enjoyed by women belonging to WRA, an organization open to all female students at CWCE.

English Club Supports World University Service Week

One of the newer clubs on campus, the English club, has about sixty members and meets twice a month. The purpose of this club is to give English majors and minors some materials they can't get in the classroom and to enlarge their backgrounds. During the past year, they have tried to get new courses into the English curriculum, participated in WUS, and had a candlelight installation of the new officers in the spring. The programs at the meetings are presented by faculty members or English teachers from the vicinity.

Leading the members in a successful year were Jim Clark, president; Jean Notman, secretary; Mary Keach, treasurer; and Dr. Anshutz, adviser.

One of the services performed by the English Club was that of collecting from door-to-door during World University Service Week. Here, Bette Kadel is shown making one of her many stops during the evening.

Science Club Launches Balloon in Experiment

One of the newer clubs on campus, but one of the most active clubs for its age is the Science club. It was formed two years ago for the majors and minors in science and mathematics to increase the interest and practical knowledge of the two fields. The activities of this club have been varied. Among them were a sign for Homecoming, mixer, working on a balloon which was set off spring quarter, and trying to organize a placement bureau for students who are going to graduate with an Arts and Science degree. This placement bureau is to be for both regular and summer employment. There were speakers at the meetings.

Officers of this club were Wayne Roe, president; Dale Davis, vice-president; Melvin Lindauer, secretary; Jerry Lundquist, treasurer, and Robert Johnson, adviser.

Men's P.E. Club Supports Campus Beautification

At the beginning of winter quarter, the men P.E. majors and minors formed a club for the men, similar to the women's professional group in the Physical Education field, the PHREMMS. Its purpose was to promote the P.E. activities on the campus and it is hoped that the club will be able to obtain films of games and prominent speakers in the future. One of the projects was to help the Beautification committee for SGA.

Leading the group which met the first Wednesday of each month were: Jack Wilson, president; Jim Thrasher, vice president; Frank Cernick, secretary-treasurer; Mickey Barrus, historian; and Everett Irish, adviser.

Entertainment during the half-time of one of the basketball games was provided by the newly organized club. Here, a trampoline act is presented as a part of the evening's show. This was one of the few games with entertainment during the half-time, although the band played faithfully at each game.

Outdoor Club Engages in Mountain Climbing

For those students interested in group activities such as hiking, mountain climbing, and skiing, there is the Outdoor club. They sponsored a mixer, skiing trips, and trips to Priest Rapids and Vantage. To finish the year's activities, the Outdoor club sponsored a water skiing trip to Moses Lake.

The outdoor man directing the activities was Don Jones. He was ably supported by Marilyn Shukis, vice-president; Betty Stone, secretary; Reed Cooper, treasurer; and Mr. Forrest Robinson, adviser.

UNITED COUNCIL OF CHRISTIAN FAITHS

The United Council of Christian Faiths is composed of representatives from each of the college church groups and functions primarily to co-ordinate the on-campus religious activities. Keeping in tone with its purpose, the council sponsored two all church group events each quarter and two all-college forums per quarter.

The past year started fast with the council entering a float in the Homecoming parade and thus added to the spirit of the "Welcome Home, Grads" Day. Later in the year there were such activities as Christmas caroling, roller skating parties and dinner get-togethers. The spring quarter climaxed the activities of the year with an all-college retreat. The officers of the council for the past year have been Jim Nance, treasurer; Betty Shoemaker, secretary; Dorothy Heini, vice-president; and Chuck Hammill, president.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is an inter-denominational organization of college-age students who want to know and serve Jesus Christ better. One of the most enjoyable activities of the meetings is studying the Bible. These studies were led by many of the students belonging and attending the club. One of the major social events was a Valentines Party held at Central with the IVCF from the University of Washington attending as guests.

The officers were Pete Summerill, president; Marjorie Gilkison, vice-president; Josee Jordan, secretary-treasurer; Darlene Heiden, social commissioner; and Margaret Parmelee, missionary chairman.

DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

The officers of the Disciple Student Fellowship were president, Elizabeth Shoemaker; vice-president, Phyllis Bailes; and secretary-treasurer, Mary Zeller. Some of the group activities during this school year have been a get-acquainted party, a hayride, and a wiener roast. Some of the special activities have been taking part in the church service on Youth Sunday, being hosts for the joint UCCF meeting during Winter Quarter and helping to plan for and attending the annual DSF conference at Manuka. The main purposes of DSF are to better acquaint the students with the Christian Church, to study and learn more about the Bible, to get others' points of view on religion, to have fellowship with other students, and to be able to meet with students of the same background of faith.

LUTHER CLUB

Luther Club met every Sunday evening at the First Lutheran Church on Sixth and Ruby for supper and fellowship. Study topics concerning religion were presented by guest speakers — missionaries, college staff, congregational members — student panels, movies, and discussions. Students from other religious background also attended and enjoyed social activities — hayrides, progressive dinners, and wiener roasts.

Members of the congregation cooked the suppers with students doing the cooking about once a month. Officers were as follows: Sandra Cox, president; Lillian Belzer, vice-president; Mary Ellen Stark, secretary; Marlyn Stark, treasurer; Janet Marinsic, stewardship secretary; and Technical Sergeant Wysocki, adviser.

Seated: P. Bailes, M. McIntosh, unidentified, V. McCoy.

NEWMAN CLUB

Newman club meets every Monday evening at 8:00 p.m. in St. Andrew's School. The aim is to bring together the Catholic students. Each month a communion breakfast is held and local leaders are invited to speak. Many social activities are held throughout the year; such as, dances, pot-luck dinners, hayrides, and the annual Newman club picnic held late in May.

Officers of this organization were Martin Gross, president; Ann Cusworth, vice-president; Gail Baldwin, secretary; Pat Haigh, treasurer; Pat Haigh and Martin Gross, UCCF Representatives; and Miss Amanda Hebler, adviser.

ROGER WILLIAMS FELLOWSHIP

Roger Williams Fellowship consists of people of college age, meeting together on Sunday evenings to further develop an understanding of Christianity with its many facets of fun, fellowship, and spiritual growth. The fun for the last year included a wiener roast, hayride, and social activities. Christian friendships were strengthened through the help of Marjorie Gilkison, president; Darlene Heiden, vice-president; Rosemary Thomas, secretary-treasurer; Dave Habbestad, song leader; and UCCF representative, Carol Brown.

In this organization there was an opportunity for a deeper and a more meaningful spiritual growth of the individual.

WESLEY CLUB

Wesley Foundation is a Methodist educational organization established at a state college or university for the purpose of ministering to students and faculty. Its purpose is to provide a home away from home. To do this, they enjoyed retreats, picnics, conferences, outings, and college socials. In their Sunday evening meetings the members enjoy a meal prepared by the students themselves, recreation, discussion and worship. Coffee hours and business meetings are held on Tuesday.

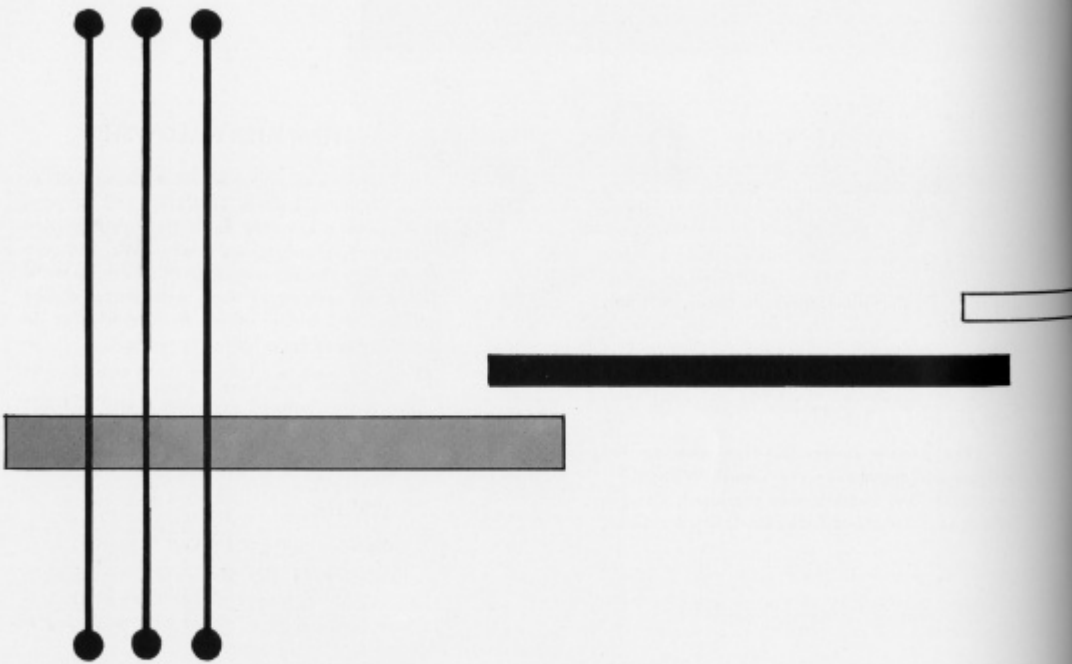

The people responsible for greeting the visitors and members were Cherie Willoughby, president; Don Trimble, vice-president; Carolyn Ward, secretary; and Kathy Carstairs, treasurer.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

"We, the members of Westminster Fellowship, commit ourselves to Christ and purpose to acquire a dynamic faith through Christian experience, worship, and study. We dedicate our lives to the expression of this faith by word and deed seeking to work with those of like purpose and invite others to join with us in building today for a Christian world."

Youth at work, are bringing God's own glory to the earth, from heaven above;
Here to set aflame His story, one in service, truth, and love,
We are striving to be faithful to the will of God.
To the will, the will of God.
Grant us faith and courage for our living, as we labor in His name.
Grant us love and faithfulness in giving, as we spread abroad His fame.
We are striving to be faithful to the will of God.
To the will, the will of God.

Officers in this dedicated organization were Lois Lee Reese, president; Cleo Black, secretary; Jerry Bolton, treasurer; and Aaron Brown, UCCF representative.

LIVING GROUPS

The largest of the women's dormitories, Kamola, faces 8th Avenue and houses approximately 225 women. Sandra Snell, pictured below, has led this group during the past year, as president.

Kamola Hall

Kamola Hall, the hall for beautiful women, again proved that they lived up to their tradition. At WUS week, Kamola went "all out" and auctioned off girls from Kamola. Besides this they showed their imagination and skill by winning first in Basketball, and first for their float in the Homecoming parade. Besides this they held Open House, firesides, and mixers. In the Spring they had the Kamola private with Hawaiian decoration with real leis. There was also a picnic.

Officers of Kamola were Sandra Snell, president; Jan Norling, vice-president; Mary Luce, secretary; Marilyn Legge, treasurer; Barbara Shinn and Carol Peterson, social chairmen; Gladys Weston, SGA Representative; Verna Williams, scribe; and Mrs. Florence Mitchell, housemother.

Row 1: G. Weston, C. Peterson, L. Coleman.

Row 3: M. Legge, J. Nielsen, G. Voelker, B. Shinn, M. Short, J. Crooks, P. Loidhamer.

Responsible for winning the trophies for Kamola in basketball, volleyball, and Homecoming float were seated: V. Williams, D. Edwards, R. Quinill, M. Thompson. Standing: C. Woods, J. Hansen, D. Rensberg, G. Hoffman, H. Shaw.

Robin Bedard was the president of the dormitory located at the corner of 8th and Walnut. This, the newest of women's dormitories, houses approximately 125 women during the regular school year, and houses the male students on campus during the summer session.

Munson Hall

"Munson girl is the sweetest girl; queen of all the co-eds I know. . ."

The opening line is the first line from Munson's song. They started a new tradition this year which is to sing their song at the beginning of every house meeting. Other activities were the Sadie Hawkin's Day dance held fall quarter. At this dance, there was a sizeable profit made. The dormitory also sold Reader's Digest subscriptions so the girls could purchase a percolator for the hall. The scholarship plaque that Munson Hall won last year has inspired them in their many activities.

Leading the Munson girls in their new song were Robin Bedard, president; Janice Kotchko, vice-president; Darlene Heiden, secretary; Cleo Black, treasurer; Ellen Jolly and Barbara Harpster, social commissioners; Julie Billeter, proctor; Gail Baldwin, historian; Alice Mason, SGA Representative; and Mrs. Elinor Fisher, housemother.

Row 1: K. Carstairs, R. Bedard, J. Kotchko, E. Fisher.
Row 2: G. Baldwin, L. Belzer, C. Sparks, A. Mason, D. Heiden, L. Roby, S. Davis, F. Filer.

One of the highlights of the year for the Munson girls was their private dance during winter quarter. Dancing was in the dining hall, which had been decorated very beautifully for the many couples attending.

Facing 8th Avenue is Sue Lombard Hall, also the home of the college infirmary. Janice Kanenwisher was the president during the past year for the 104 women who reside there.

Sue Lombard

Sue Lombard girls are sitting in luxury. At the beginning of the year the East Room was remodeled. The girls came back to wall-to-wall carpeting, modern tables, lamps, and divans. This was partly responsible for their prize-winning ideas. Sue won third in the Homecoming sign competition, and first in Choral Competition and Christmas decorations. At the Choral Competition, Sue sang "Sleep," and "Thirty-Two Feet and Eight Little Tails." "The Enchanted Forest" was the theme for the Christmas decorations. Besides this, Sue stayed active by holding several firesides, all-college dance, Watch Night dance, Spring quarter formal with music by Dick Schopf, and dormitory parties.

Officers reclining in the nicest chairs were Janice Kanenwisher, president; Dorothy Heint, vice-president; Marjorie Gilkison, secretary; Sonja Zamzow, treasurer; Pat Hartman, social commissioner; Judy Bowers, Courtesy chairman; Sandra Cox, song leader; and Joy Barsotti, SGA Representative.

Sue Lombard's officers were: seated—M. Gilkison, S. Redka, M. Ziemer, Mrs. McGeehan, housemother, P. Hartman, J. Barsotti, J. Kanenwisher. Standing: D. Heint, S. Zamzow, C. Willoughby, J. Bowers, D. Byfield, C. Hefflinger, B. Shoemaker, S. Cox.

At the left, Marge Robertson is shown pouring punch for Mrs. Hitchcock, the guest of honor at a reception held in Sue Lombard's newly furnished living room. The receiving line, at right, consisted of Jan Kanenwisher, Mrs. Hitchcock, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Thorn, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Mitchell.

Alden Esping was the president of North Hall, one of the newer of the men's dorms housing approximately 100 students. This dormitory also houses students during Girls' and Boys' State sessions.

North Hall

A big annual event of the year for North Hall was the Homecoming Queen's reception. For decorations the table was decorated with a gridiron. A miniature queen was in the middle crowning a football player. Punch and cake were served. Other activities were the Frosh Initiation, Homecoming float, and the December fireside. For Christmas decorations, North came out second with a manger scene. There were live sheep in the lobby and live background music furnished by the members of the dormitory. They had a Christmas Party and the Winter Wonderland formal in the CUB. The Hi-Fis from Yakima played at the dance. To close this most successful year the dormitory held a picnic at Swauk.

Leading this most active dormitory were Alden Esping, president; Jim Olson, vice-president; Ted Wood, secretary; Charles Foster, treasurer; Larry Sundholm and Dick Boudreau, social commissioners; Ferd Nist, MIA Representative; Dave Annonen, SGA Representative; and Mr. and Mrs. Vic Bolon, counselors.

Row 1: N. Bolon, A. Esping, J. Olson, R. Boudreau.

Row 2: V. Bolon, C. Foster, G. Hais, G. Townsend, L. Sundholm, D. Annonen, T. Wood.

One of the traditions of North Hall is the giving of a reception for the Homecoming Queen and her court during the Homecoming weekend. This reception was held following the football game, and was enjoyed by everyone attending, as it was a special courtesy for the royalty, and was well organized and planned.

The newest of the men's dorms is Wilson Hall, located between North Hall and Vetville. Jack Wilson assumed the duties of the president, when Dean Bunce moved off campus.

Wilson Hall

Wilson had been saving their money spring quarter for a most useful and practical item. The boys are using their money to purchase a dryer. Fall quarter their money went for the Homecoming float and Christmas decorations. Winter quarter found the decrease in their pocketbook to be the Pajama Dance, which was lots of fun and enjoyed by all who participated. So spring quarter found the Wilson Hall boys with a way to dry their clothes. Wilson won first prize in the Christmas choral competition for the men's halls. This gave them the opportunity to sing at the CUB Christmas party.

Leading their dormitory to that long-awaited dryer were Dean Bunce, president; Jim Selig, vice-president; Dave Scearce, secretary; Don Mitchell, treasurer; Jim Kemp, social commissioner; Monte Wilson, SGA Representative; and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tingelstad, advisers.

Seated are the two house counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tingelstad. Standing: J. Kemp, M. Wilson, J. Wilson, D. Mitchell, F. Brown.

An annual affair sponsored by Wilson Hall is the pajama dance in the winter quarter. This was the second year for this dance and it proved very popular with many couples wearing matching pajamas and night caps.

Dave Harris was the president of Kennedy Hall, now a very active men's dormitory, but originally built as a women's dormitory. This is the third year that men have lived there.

Kennedy Hall

The men of Kennedy and their counselor, Mrs. Whitner, had a very enjoyable and friendly year. At the beginning of the year, the men purchased a television set for the dormitory and they spent their time evenings watching it. On Sunday nights Mrs. Whitner would pop popcorn and everyone enjoyed the fellowship. Once there was even a spaghetti dinner. But don't think that is all that they did. There was also an all-college dance, Homecoming float and sign and an open house, all sponsored by Kennedy.

Officers for this dormitory were Dave Harris, president; Richard Cornwell, vice-president; Dave Habbestad, secretary; Mel Lindauer, treasurer; Bob Stidwell and Eddie Kantor, social commissioners; Bill Bergsma, SGA Representative; and Mrs. Norine Whitner, counselor.

Seated: D. Habbestad, D. Harris, N. Whitner, R. Cornwell, M. Lindauer. Standing: B. Stidwell, R. Johnson, R. Kresak, B. Wilburn, E. Kantor, B. Hagemeyer.

At the left is Mrs. Whitner relaxing in her apartment, provided for the house counselor, as in the other dormitories. At the right, Kennedy Hall sponsored a penny toss for World University Service Week, and was one of the few participating in the Club Night activities.

One of the prefabricated housing units for men, Alford Hall, was led by Mike Austin during the past year. It is hoped that these units will be replaced in the very near future.

Alford Hall

Alford Hall had its usual good men and good fun. The men of the hall laid aside their books during the busy season of Homecoming to win third place in the Homecoming floats. Among their other activities were mixers, serenading girls' dormitories, and taking part in intramural sports. Leading this group in their fun and frolic were Mike Austin, president; Ray Johnson, vice-president; Ray De Bernardi, secretary; Dick Deane, treasurer; Martin Lavin and Pat Watson, social commissioners; and Bob Holtz, house counselor.

Seated: D. Deane, B. Holtz, M. Austin.
Standing: J. Jensen, D. Lewis, J. Gower, R. De Bernardi, M. Lavin, D. Seiers.

The men of Alford Hall are shown at one of their dorm meetings, held frequently during the year to help the fellows work together more harmoniously and constructively.

Tom Reilly led the men of Carmody Hall through a very successful year. This is another of the "quads" built during the war, and one of the dorms used for housing delegates at Girls' and Boys' State sessions.

Carmody Hall

A new housemother, Mrs. Smith, came to Carmody Hall, and the boys think that she may have been the good-luck charm for this year. The activities were many and varied, including intramural sports, Homecoming float, winter quarter mixer, Christmas party, and the traditional spring quarter picnic. Assisting in leading the hall through the year were Tom Reilly, president; Ron Zylstra, vice-president; Rich Vennetti, secretary; Aaron Brown, treasurer; Tom Nelson, social commissioner; John Coffee, sports chairman; Al Udd, Dan Fitzmorris, Ernest Sterba, and Merlin Fleisch, sergeants-at-arms.

Row 1: K. Smith, T. Reilly.

Row 2: J. Sheridan, R. Zylstra, J. Coffee, S. Langton, A. Brown.

Some of the relaxation of the dorms comes through parties, like the one pictured here at Carmody, with pop corn and old standby, pop. For many of these parties, the house mother takes an active part in serving "her boys."

Montgomery Hall's president during the past year was Glen Wilsey. This is one of the dorms having a student as the dorm counselor, Ted Cook serving in that capacity at Montgomery.

Montgomery Hall

Montgomery's claim to fame this year came through winning first place on its Homecoming sign. The proud leaders of this dormitory were Glen Wilsey, president; Lee Haberling, vice-president; Jim Rothwell, secretary-treasurer; William Glover, social chairman; Larry Bartruff and Terry Kawaguchi, sergeants-at-arms; John Jakobsen, M.I.A. Representative; and Ted Cook, counselor. They continued their activities with a Wednesday night mixer in February, and a dormitory party spring quarter.

Seated: G. Wilsey, L. Haberling, P. Bryant, J. Rothwell.
Standing: B. Glover, T. Cook.

All of the living groups have access to a lounge, this one being at Montgomery Hall. The lounges are available for relaxation, meetings, or special parties.

Jim Burr was the president of Munro Hall, another of the prefabricated housing units on campus. Pat Crawford served as house counselor for this dormitory.

Munro Hall

Something new happened to Munro Hall this year. The members of the hall participated in the Asiatic flu epidemic along with the rest of the campus. Other activities were Homecoming activities, M.I.A., and Munro's last round-up dance in the spring. Helping the dorm with their activities were the officers: Jim Burr, president; John Gray, vice-president; Errol Templer, secretary-treasurer; Dave Fitzgerald, social commissioner; Carl Nickerson and Elmer Fode, sergeants-at-arms; and counselor, Pat Crawford.

Standing: J. Burr, C. Nickerson, E. Templer, D. Fitzgerald.
Sitting: J. Gray, E. Fode, P. Crawford.

One of the most popular spots in the dormitories is the telephone or the telephone booth as shown in Munro Hall. Each of the dorms has a pay phone, as well as the telephones for the counselors.

Vetville is the name chosen for the married students housing on the campus. Bob Stanaway was the mayor during the past year.

Vetville

Vetville, the small town belonging to Central, did its part again this year to keep this campus active. They participated in M.I.A. flagball, volleyball, basketball, and softball; and in the city league volleyball. To add to the social life of both the campus and Vetville, they sponsored the Senior Day dance, Homecoming float, and the annual Vetville picnic at Swauk.

The elected officers of the little town were Bob Stanaway, mayor; Bill Wilson, vice-mayor; Ernie DeRocher, SGA representative; Mary Ann Ellis, secretary; Ron Taylor, treasurer; Joe Paolino, M.I.A. representative; and Marilyn Callender, social commissioner.

The officers of Vetville for the past year were: J. Paolino, B. Wilson, B. Stanaway, R. Taylor, and E. DeRocher.

Some of the most active members in Vetville are the children of the students. Many of them have very little room to play, but with children of all ages around, they have the valuable experience of learning to live together.

Many students have chosen to live off the campus, and here is one of the many homes, in which students room. Many have apartments and are completely independent, while others rent a room and eat in the college dining hall. Twylla Gibb was the resident of the Off-campus women during the first half of the year.

Off Campus

All other living groups live in one concentrated area, but off-campus ranges from Capital Avenue to Twelfth Street and from Cliff Avenue to Water Street. Governing this large area is Twylla Gibb, president; Barbara Bradbury, vice-president; Jacque Sholberg, secretary; Mary Brown, treasurer; Nancy Hayslip, social commissioner; Karen Cole, SGA Representative; and Miss Hansen, adviser. These were the officers leading the girls. The men were led by John Wagner, president; Ken Baldwin, SGA Representative; and Phil Gant, M.I.A. Representative.

The activities of these two combined groups were an extra show during winter quarter, the May Prom, and a Wednesday night dance. The women and men participated in the Christmas choral competition.

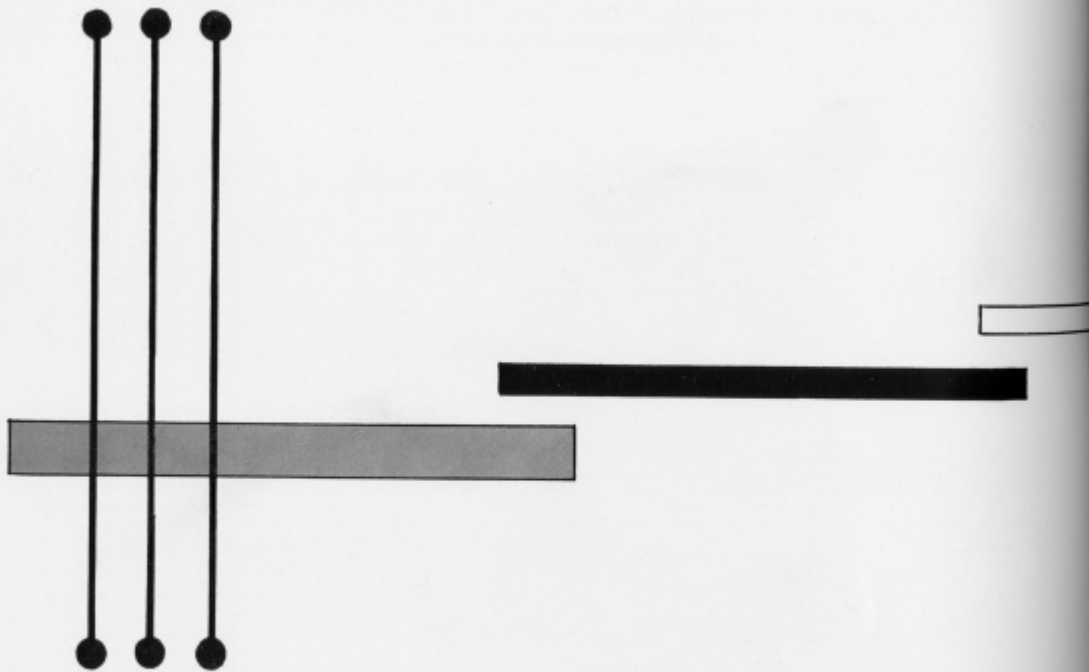

The officers during the last half of the school year were: M. Brown, J. Wenger, J. Wagner, J. Miller.

Laying early plans for the May Prom, the main social activity for Off campus, are these students. The Prom is held in the Elks Club in Ellensburg, and is open to all students of CWCE.

ACTIVITIES

Central Singers Travel Throughout State on

One of the finest groups of vocalists that Central has ever known represented CWCE as the Central Singers this year. They not only made many appearances in Ellensburg during the year, such as at the Rotary Club, Senior Day, Christmas concert, Commencement concert, at the Northwest Conference of Lions Clubs, and many others, but toured many parts of Washington. The annual tour began on April 13 in Seattle, and during that week, the group sang in high schools in Seattle, Everett, Bothell, Snohomish, Mercer Island, Yakima, Sunnyside, Richland, Pasco, and made three television appearances, two in Seattle, and one in Yakima. Twenty-two concerts were given that week, forcing all of the members to be real "trouper."

The seventy-four members who were chosen from the regular A Cappella choir were a combination of music majors, music minors, and many students just interested in music. For many of the concerts in Ellensburg, all of the members of the regular choir performed.

Mr. Wayne Hertz, in his twenty-fifth year in music education, was once again the dynamic and respected director of the choir. The choir was honored by being invited to sing for the State MENC convention in Yakima. Through Mr. Hertz's help, many of the members of the choir also performed in the musical production, "Carousel," scheduled spring quarter.

Dick Hull was the president of the choir. Mallory McManus was vice-president and secretary was Sonja Zamzow.

Annual Tour Under Leadership of Wayne Hertz

One of the large projects which confronted Central's choir during the month of January was preparing for a choral clinic which was held in the College Elementary School. A music company in Seattle furnished the music for approximately eighty numbers, suitable for high school and college choirs. These numbers were performed for choir directors from Central Washington, and proved to be very beneficial both to the choir, who had experience in reading more music, and also to the choir directors, who were introduced to much of the music which has just been published.

Band Members Present Concerts, Provide Pep

Members of the band are shown leaving for the week-long band tour, which they began early on Monday morning. Two buses were chartered and stayed with them during the tour.

Band, March, and Travel With Christianson

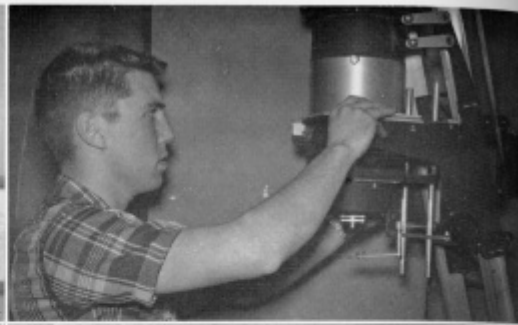

The 60-piece Central Washington band once again showed the public what a fine band can do in performing both classical and contemporary works of music. The band was composed of all students interested in playing, whether or not they were music majors or minors.

Various members of the band played for the basketball games, and the whole band played at the football games, and marched during the halftime of the Homecoming game.

During the winter quarter, the band toured the state for a part of one week, playing in Leavenworth, Wenatchee, Chelan, Quincy, Ephrata, Moses Lake, Othello, Ellensburg, and Cle Elum. Concerts were played in high schools in the morning and afternoon, with an evening concert each night. The band was very well received everywhere it played.

Mr. A. Bert Christianson, a past president of the Northwest division of the Music Educators National Conference, was the director of the band for another year. Mainly due to his fine leadership and able direction, the band made much progress this year, and has been widely acclaimed throughout the state. The band did much for the college, public relations-wise, also.

Hyakem Staff Presents

Although few realize the work connected with the publication of a college yearbook, the hope of those working on it was that the students of CWCE would find in it a treasured volume of experiences and remembrances of the 1957-58 school year.

The work for the yearbook began last summer, with the planning of the book by the staff, and drawing up the first dummy, showing where each picture and bit of copy would be placed in the book. Early in the fall there were pictures to be taken and then they were mounted on mat board before being shipped to the engravers in Seattle. These pictures were taken by professionals and amateurs. Many students spent Saturday mornings working in the Hyakem office, helping to mount these pictures and also in copying the original dummy, so that two more copies were on hand for the engraver and printer.

Each quarter found the staff rushing hard at the end when finals were prevalent to meet the everpresent deadlines. At these times, the staff always found that there were some pictures without any identification, so they could be seen circulating through the CUB, asking everyone for help.

Also, during this time, reporters were busy securing information for the copy in the book. No doubt, almost everyone on this campus was asked for some help, in getting a story about the clubs, dormitories, and activities.

Another in a Series

There probably was never an annual staff that wasn't continually running into one crisis or another. During the past year, the Hyakem staff managed to have its share. In January, when the height of picture-taking was planned, one of the photographers suddenly decided to move to New Mexico, so there was considerable hair-graying and frustration, but there always seemed to be an answer, and not one, but two photographers went to work for the staff. Another minor crisis occurred as the book was going to press, when three of the engraving plates were missing, but the original matboards were left, so they were promptly returned to the engravers, who in turn rushed them through, and sent them to the printer.

The cover was designed by Rudy Kovacevich this year, and he also did the art work in the book, which was held to a minimum. It is hoped that in the future, the staff will have the assistance of an art editor.

After the copy and pictures were all in, the staff still had the job of daily proofreading what the printer ran on that day. What a joyous day it was when the book went to the binder! After that, all that was left for the staff was the preparing of envelopes for mailing the books. Three hundred seventy-one books were mailed last year.

Although it was a lot of work, the production of the yearbook was also great fun, as it provided an opportunity to work with all of the students toward the publication of the 1958 Hyakem.

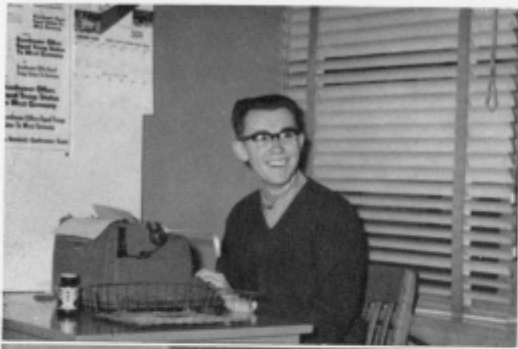

Adviser, Miss Bonnie Wiley, and Dorothy Heini, Editor, made many checks on pictures, copy, and advertisements throughout the year.

Weekly Newspaper Pro

Campus Criers rolled off the press weekly and were rushed into the hands of waiting students, but few knew of the extensive process which went into each edition. Students gave up mixers, weekend trips home, and study hours so they could obtain a greater coverage of campus events in the Crier.

Those in editorial positions could be found being ushered out of the office after closing hours in the CUB almost any night. Weekends were devoted to handling early copy and writing editorials. The associate editor worked diligently on Monday evenings as the editor covered student government meetings. Tuesday was the rush to get last minute copy and pictures to the Ellensburg Daily Record office where the paper was printed. Crier meetings were held early Wednesday evenings and assignments were made for the next week's paper. When the office cleared of reporters the editorial staff proofread galleys and did the layouts for the paper. The editor and sports editor would supervise the assembling of the Crier at the print shop and would read page proofs. Thus the wheels turned as the staff began working on the following week's paper before the current publication was finished.

duced by CRIER Staff

Gene Luft edited the Crier throughout the year. His weekly routine was broken in November when he was sent as delegate to the Associated Collegiate Press conference in New York City. Barbara Smith assumed the duties of editor in his two-week absence.

Mickey Hamlin, associate editor, assisted in the editor's duties as final deadlines approached each week. Jan Crooks moved from her position of advertising manager when she replaced Joe Crites as business manager winter quarter. Mickey Nelson and Dick Rockne each served one quarter as advertising manager. Sharon Johnson assumed the duties of copy editor spring quarter when Janice Kotchkoe student taught.

Kirby Offutt headed the sports staff winter and spring quarters after replacing Hal Heath. Mickey Barrus helped keep tabs on the top-notch teams in his position of assistant sports editor.

Queen Jan Reigns

Homecoming started Friday evening, October 25, with a Variety Show. At this event, Dr. Robert E. McConnell crowned Jan Kanenwisher queen of Homecoming. The princesses were Twylla Gibb, and Pat Hotsko. This was the first year that a Variety Show had been presented as part of the Homecoming activities. It took the place of Stunt Night. Some of the interesting acts included a German band presented by some members of the faculty. First prize winner for the Variety Show was Monte Wilson who played the piano. Second prize went to Ray Johnson for his talent on his trumpet. Third prize was a skit by Karen Bainton and Dolores Mueller called "Balling the Jack." Queen Jan presented the awards.

After the Variety Show came the noise rally. Central cheerleaders, Linda Green, Lynda Livesley and Sandra Leonard, led the lively and loud cheering. The Sweeties provided music for the rally. A traveling pep jug was awarded to the winning dormitories that yelled the loudest. Winning the jug was North Hall, with Sue Lombard coming in second. The group disbursed to the free movie, dance or to work on floats for Saturday's parade.

The quality of the floats in this Homecoming parade was high. Bands played and lovely floats came and went. The judges had a hard time picking the winners. Kamola's float with coeds dressed in circus attire for the theme, "Under the Big Top," won first. North Hall received second, and Alford, third. The Queen's Float was lovely, but only half as lovely as the royalty riding upon it.

At top: The circus sign, erected by Kennedy Hall, and at top right: Kamola's first prize winning float. At the right: Sigma Tau's "Welcome Grade" sign. Karen Bainton and Dolores Muller in their second place skit for Talent night, and the faculty's German band, which also performed at the talent night show.

Over Homecoming

And then it was lunch time. This year a Smorgasbord was presented instead of the traditional banquet. The Commons was gaily attired with circus murals and balloons. The table decorations were paper clown hats and confetti. In this attractive setting how could anyone help but enjoy the delicious food.

But hurry—the game is about to begin. Crowds cheered. Spectators found themselves perched on top of their seats. The final thrill came at the end of the game which showed the Wildcats ahead of the CPS Loggers. The final score was 25 to 7.

Homecoming would not have been Homecoming without the varied and interesting signs. Montgomery Hall won first prize in the sign competition. Arnold Air Society won second with an interesting sign with a movable propeller. Sue Lombard came out with third for their huge elephant that sprayed water on the passers-by. Kennedy's side show won a well deserved honorable mention.

The closing event of Homecoming weekend was the Homecoming dance. Beautiful decorations adorned the men's gymnasium. The outstanding event of the whole evening was the presentation of the Queen and her court. The Queen's Dance was then played and then the evening ended with the other couples waltzing the night away.

The next morning the campus was silent as the last dreams of Homecoming died away until the following year.

"Song of Bernadette"

In the finest turnout in a long time, Milo Smith, director of the College Theater, cast Diane Thompson as "Bernadette" in the fall play, "Song of Bernadette." Serious rehearsal began after Homecoming with Mary Ann Short as "Sister Vauzou;" Joan Hooper, "Jeanne Abadie;" Judy Ackley, "Marie Soubirous;" Pat Gleason, "Croisine Bouhouhorts;" Charles Hawkins, "Antoine Nicolau;" and Joe Ramseyer as "Dr. Dazous." Still others were Robert Baker as "Major Lacade;" Rich Vennetti, "Dean Peyramale;" Bill Miller, "Jacomet;" Hugh Hinson, "Mr. Soubirous;" Michael Dore, "Louis Bouriette;" Norma Woodard, "Bernarde Casterot;" Geraldine Poland, "Madame Sajou;" Sandi Greenwalt, "Celeste;" Virginia Schmella, "Madame Pernet;" Jackie Jones, "Louise Soubirous;" and Sharon Johnson, "Mother Josephine." Cast as students were Julie Billeter, Shirley Hoff, Clara Seeley, and Carol Lowery. Karen Bainton acted as student director.

The story was concerned with dreamy Bernadette Soubirous who seems stupid in comparison to her quick-witted schoolmates. She was a problem to her strict teacher, Sister Vauzous.

When a beautiful vision appeared to Bernadette she became a problem to not only her poor parents, but the whole town as well. Accused of lying, and threatened with being committed to an asylum, Bernadette had to choose between renouncing her visions or entering the strict discipline of the sisterhood.

At last the big day arrived, and the play was on. No more rehearsing. This was it! The date was November 21, 22, and 23, and the "Song of Bernadette" appeared before the eyes of the Central students.

"The Caine Mutiny"

"Caine Mutiny Court Martial" presented performances in the College Auditorium. Milo Smith, director of the College Theater, directed the play.

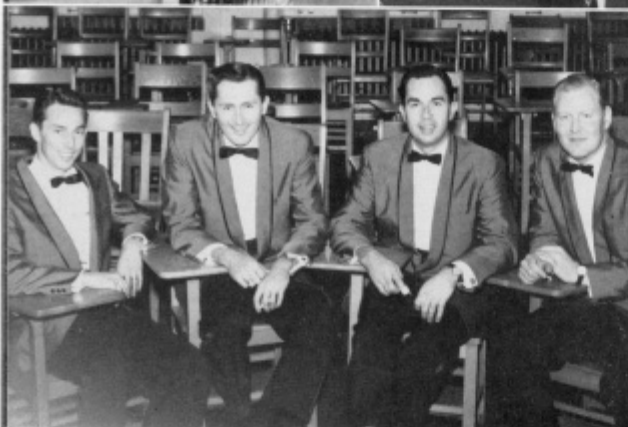

Adapted from Herman Wouk's Pulitzer Prize-winning novel "Caine Mutiny," the play was produced on the Washington State campus recently and soon after was scheduled to open at the University of Washington. The all-male cast was a novelty on this campus.

Cast members included Pat Watson, Lt. Maryk; Rich Vennetti, Lt. Greenwald; Gary Bannister, Lt. Commander Challee; James Kilkeny, Capt. Blakely; Hugh Hinson, Lt. Commander Queeg; and Terry Flanagan, Lt. Keefer. Others were Ron Sportsman, Signalman 3/c Urban; Kenneth Brown, Lt. j.g. Keith; Ron Johnson, Capt. Southard; Michael Dore, Dr. Lundeen; Tom Fitzer, Dr. Baird; Larry Hamrell, court stenographer; and Marty Budzius, court orderly.

"Caine Mutiny Court Martial" was concerned with the fate of a young naval lieutenant who has accused his ship's captain of being a psychopath and endangering the lives of his men as well as jeopardizing the ship during the storm.

The courtroom scenes, as the witnesses take the stand to give their testimony, pictured serious as well as humorous incidents.

Assemblies Are Many, Varied, and Outstanding

During the year, students of CWCE have many opportunities to hear some of the finest musical groups and speakers. The 11 o'clock hour on Thursday is reserved every week, and a special assembly committee works diligently to see that only the best speakers and performers appear. Some of those who appeared on Thursday were: Lester Beck, who spoke on "Indonesia" and illustrated it with colored films. Another of the speakers was Frank Slater, whose topic was "Pleasures of Painting", preceded by Harrison Salisbury and his talk on "Revolt in the Satellites". One of the more novel of the assemblies was the Tootikian Dancers, performing on February 13th.

The Student Government Association sponsored two concerts by well-known singing groups, both during the winter quarter. The Four Freshmen gave a concert of about an hour and a half, and were honored at a reception in the CUB afterwards, as were the Hi Lo's. Both of the concerts were enjoyed by the student body, although they felt that one was fairly short. It was a good step forward in bringing known personalities to the campus. The third group featured during the year was the Russ Morgan band, who played for the Junior Prom on April 10th.

Community Concerts Feature Well-Known Artists

One of the little known and little recognized groups on the campus is the college orchestra, under the direction of Herbert Bird. Rehearsals are held each Monday night, and many persons besides the ones in the music department are invited to participate. Consequently, many of the members of the orchestra are members of the community. Although it doesn't have as many opportunities to perform as some of the other groups, this year has been more active than previous years. Besides the full concert, the orchestra accompanied the production of "Carousel" during Spring quarter.

The Moses Lake High School Band performed at one of the Thursday assemblies, under the direction of Robert Panerio, a past graduate of CWCE.

Nadine Conner was the artist at the first Community Concert of the year. Students are admitted to all Community Concerts with their SGA tickets. Three were presented this year, through the Ellensburg Community Concert Association. This is one of the best opportunities that the students have to be introduced to fine music and fine artists.

Many musical teams appear during the year, but one of the unusual ones was a team presented at a Thursday assembly. The fellow played the psaltery and explained how it was made and demonstrated its use, as an accompanying instrument for the voice.

World University Service Week Draws Much Interest

"Around the World with WUS" was the theme of the annual week devoted to raising funds for World University Service. This is a group which is banded together to help students in all areas of the world, not only abroad, but also on our own shores. Wherever help is needed for college and university students, as well as younger students, World University Service is ready to help. Once each year a special drive is held on the campus to raise funds to do its share.

The kick-off talent show was held Monday, February 3rd, with a small charge made each of the students. A special feature of the show was the auctioning of five Kamola girls, chosen in an election by the dormitory. Dr. Lyman Partridge handled the auctioneering chores, and helped to raise the total to $100 for the talent show.

Tuesday was Club Day, and many of the clubs and organizations on the campus erected booths in the CUB and sold candy, books, chances to get a licorice stick by puncturing a balloon, and students also voted for the most popular professor. The best money maker, however, was the Spur jail, erected of chicken wire. Students could be captured by the Spurs, when someone paid to have them put in the jail, and after fifteen minutes they could bail themselves out for ten cents.

Talent Show, Club Activities, Drive Swell WUS Week Funds

Wednesday night, a special mixer was held in the gymnasium to help swell the fund to be sent to other students all over the world.

Thursday was Faculty Day, and some of the faculty members could be seen in the CUB selling candy or cookies. This day was also the drive in the community.

Friday night a special movie, "Johnny Belinda", was shown, with all proceeds going to the WUS fund. This was one of the SGA contributions to the week. Immediately following the movie, a carnival was held in the gymnasium. This was the first time that something like this had been attempted, and several dormitories and clubs participated, although the interest in something like this wasn't as great as was expected. A few of the participants were Arnold Air Society, Alpha Phi Omega, Kennedy Hall.

Saturday night, a dance was held in the gymnasium to complete the week. As for all of the other events, all money went to the WUS fund.

Although the original goal wasn't reached, the many chairmen of the committees worked very hard all week and previous to it in making plans and a very substantial sum was realized in the end. The co-chairmen for the whole week were Robin Bedard and Jim Clark, who were assisted by the regional coordinator for WUS.

At the upper left: SNEA sponsored a booth during Club Day, whereby students could vote for their "favorite teacher," on the basis of looks, brains, muscles, and dress. At the lower left: One of the attractions of the Organization night was the Arnold Air Society pie-throwing booth. It was both comical and it gave many of the ROTC fellows a chance for "revenge." At the right: Students are shown leaving for the door-to-door drive made on the Thursday night of WUS week. Many students spent several hours in an effort to contact the people of the community.

Christmas at Cen

Christmas at Central was an eventful occasion again this year. Passers-by began to notice the difference on the campus when they looked at the dormitory windows. Gay Santas and religious pictures adorned most of the glass. Had the casual observer walked into the dormitories, he would have found the halls flooded with all sorts of festive decorations. The campus was in a hurry getting the rooms, doors, and windows all decorated, but there still was time for the traditional "Merry Christmas," which was heard everywhere.

At left, three Central coeds are shown accepting candy from Santa at the CUB party, while, at the right, Jan Kanenwisher and Sandra Snell are shown pouring coffee at the party, which was decorated very beautifully, complete with a Christmas tree, candles, and huge poinsettias.

Central Is Festive Time

Among the highlights of the Christmas season was the CUB Christmas party, where faculty and students mingled and became better acquainted. Still other highlights were the choral concert, given by the Central Singers; and the Christmas dinner at the Commons. There was the choral competition in which Sue Lombard Hall and Wilson Hall won first, and Off-Campus Girls received honorable mention. Winning the honors for their attractive display of Christmas scenes in the various halls were Sue Lombard, first place; North, second; and Kamola, third. This was the last activity for the old year of 1957.

At left is shown Kamola's festive looking fireplace, decorating their brick room, and at the right is the manger scene, which centered the decorations at North Hall. Kamola won third place and North Hall won second place honors for their decorations.

Military Ball

Pat Hartman Elected
Military Ball Queen

Pat Hartman, Queen of the Military Ball, and her four princesses were escorted to her throne by an Honor Guard of eight men February 1 at the annual formal dance held in the Commons. Princesses for the ball were Jean Kraemer, Artie Jo Blanchard, Alicia Lundberg, and Karen Wade.

This was the seventh annual Military Ball to be sponsored by the Arnold Air Society. "Beyond the Blue Horizon" was this year's theme.

Frankie Roth and his orchestra played for the ball. Chairmen for the dance were Pat Watson, general; John Tyner, decorations; Wayne Roe and Dale Louk, refreshments; Ruffus Garoutte, tickets; Cliff Filleau, entertainment; Patrick McNeil, publicity; and Jim Hammill, queen selection.

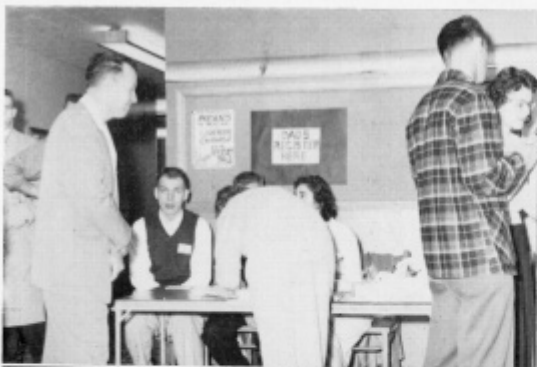

During the school year, many dances are held during the week on Wednesday nights and on the weekends. However, dancing is only one of the many opportunities students on the CWCE campus have for entertainment. Nearly every weekend, at least two late movies are shown for the nominal charge of ten cents.

At the top: One of the most enjoyable and novel of the dances held during the year was the Pajama Dance, sponsored by Wilson Hall. Held in the gymnasium, it was quite successful for the second year.

At the left: Jan Kanenwisher crowned Art Scheda as Handsome Harry at the annual dance, held on Dad's Day weekend. Each of the women's dormitories had nominated a candidate and then the girls on campus voted, with the president of Sue Lombard Hall crowning Sue's candidate as the winner.

At the right: This is one of the many mixers held in the gymnasium during the year. They are all informal and provide good relaxation during the middle of the week.

Dances

At the left, many fathers registered Friday night and Saturday morning in the CUB. This was the biggest registration ever. At the right: the coffee hour which was held in the morning was attended by both faculty members and the students and their fathers. It was another of the lovely events held in the CUB.

Dad's Day

Dads, mothers, little brothers and sisters arrived February 21 to begin the activities of Dad's Day. More than 200 dads attended the celebration. Dads were registered in the CUB Friday from 5 to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 8 to 11:30 a.m. by the Spurs. A college band concert was presented Friday in the auditorium, followed by a bingo party in the CUB.

Parents met with the faculty and administration members at an informal coffee hour in the CUB from 10 to 11 a.m. Saturday. The annual Dad's Day banquet was held in the Commons, starting at 5:30 p.m. Saturday. The theme of the banquet was Washington's Birthday. Dress was informal.

Dads were treated to a basketball game with CPS Saturday night. There was a special section at the game for the dads. Intermission featured a novelty march number by the Spurs.

Upper left: Over 450 students and their parents were guests at the annual Dad's Day Banquet, served in the Commons in a very elaborate setting. Left: Dads were the guests at the game played at the high school gymnasium. At right: the Handsome Harry Dance, an annual dance sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, was the scene of many of the fathers and daughters and mothers and sons dancing together for possibly the first time. This was an enjoyable way to complete the day.

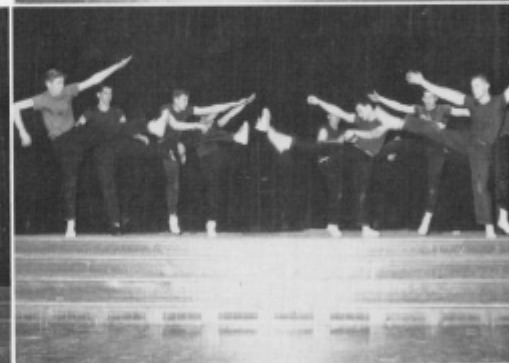

Above: One of the most beautiful and graceful dances performed at the Dance Revue was the Russian Ballet. For this number, seven girls, one being a soloist, were used, as part of the large cast.

Dance Revue

"Round the World in 80 Minutes," Central's first dance revue, was presented by a cast of 115 students under the direction of Miss Diane Hansen March 7 and 8, in the College Auditorium. Twenty dances, spotlighting various countries as well as the United States were included in the production. A quick representation of America was presented first via a jitterbug routine and a march. The cast then presented dances representative of Scotland, Africa, Spain, Mexico, Russia, South America, France, Egypt, Hawaii, Vienna, and then returned to America for a Broadway show. Dances included a highland fling, hula, ballet, harem dance, Voodoo from Africa, Viennese waltz, Mexican hat dance, New Yorker representing a Broadway production number, Spanish tambourine, cancan, Charleston, samba, tango, tap and pantomime.

The Four Dimensions, vocal quartet, sang several numbers including "There's No Business Like Show Business." A script was created which tied the dances and countries together. Some of the dances featured special lighting effects and props. All costumes for the revue were made by the dancers with material purchased by the school.

Seven Lively Lassies Lead Sweezy Cheering Section

The girls who led the cheering section at the football and basketball games had a very difficult job most of the time, but the student body is grateful for the enthusiasm they tried to draw from the crowd. They were: Kathy Palmer, Linda Green, and Lynda Livesley.

Pat Lindsey, Sue Stevens, Pat Hotsko, and Artie Jo Blanchard led the CWCE athletic enthusiasts in songs at the football and basketball games. They also performed during the band's playing. Their performing added much life to the games.

Walla Walla, September 21

Central 14, Whitman 13

It was a successful debut for the Central Washington Wildcats when they raised the curtain on the grid season, easing by the Missionaries of Whitman, 14-13.

Whitman drew first blood by taking the opening kick-off and driving the length of the field for the first touchdown. Central evened things up, when the Missionaries kicked-off and Central went on a sustained drive from their 48, culminating in Danny Schwisow's bucking over from the four-yard line. Corky Bridges put the Wildcats in front to stay, by successfully converting the try-for-point.

Central picked up their second score midway in the second half with Corky Bridges romping 30 yards to paydirt with a Whitman punt. Bridges then iced the game by successfully splitting the uprights.

The Missionaries closed the gap in the fading seconds of the game, clicking on an eleven-yard pass play.

Bozeman, Montana, September 28

Central 7, Montana State 13

A superior bench proved the margin of victory as Central closed out their pre-conference schedule by bowing to the Montana State Bobcats 13-7.

Employing a vicious ground game, the Bobcats ripped out huge chunks of yardage to march 60 yards for their first score. They also converted successfully to take a 7-0 lead.

Midway in the second quarter, Joe Kominski blocked a State punt, then fell on it in the end zone for the Wildcats' only tally. Bridges' conversion made it a brand new ball game. The Bobcats provided the winning margin by converting a 59-yard march on the ground, into their second touchdown of the game.

Ellensburg, October 12

Central 7, Whitworth 6

Central threw the infantry against the airborne attack of the Whitworth Pirates, emerging with a scant 7-6 triumph, in their first league contest of the season.

The Wildcats went up on the scoring board in the first quarter, as Bridges set up the touchdown with a 40-yard sideline gallop. Six plays later, Bud Snaza bolted into the end zone off a quarterback sneak.

Whitworth stormed back in the second period and got absolutely nowhere, as the Wildcat defense proved impregnable. The quarter ended with the Pirate eleven stalled on the Central one-foot line.

In the final two minutes of the game, the aerial attack of Whitworth paid off when quarterback Don Price hit big Dan Nicksich on a 30-yard pass play. Central was still in the lead when the Pirate conversion went wide of the goal post.

With only seconds left, Whitworth recovered their own kick-off in an attempt to pull the game out. However, the game ended with Central hauling down a Pirate pass on the Wildcat 25.

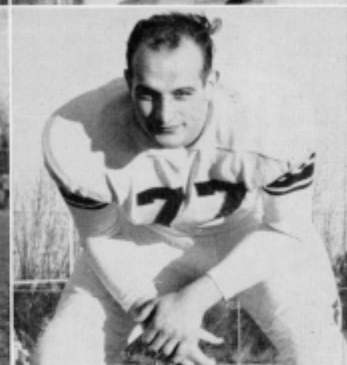

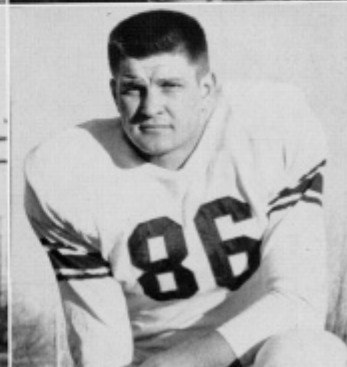

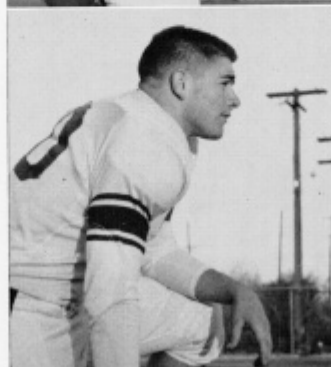

Tacoma, October 19

Central 20, PLC 0

Central swept into undisputed possession of first place in the Evergreen Conference by whitewashing the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators, 20-0.

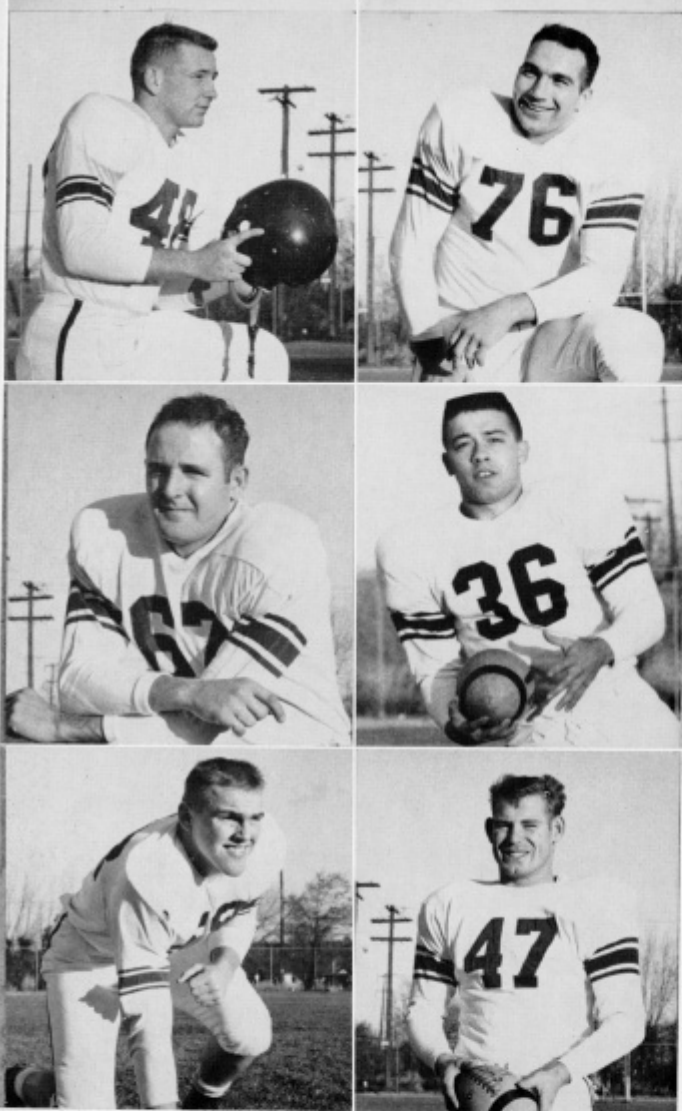

Hitting the scoreboard in every period except the third, the Wildcats proved untameable in their romp over the hapless Lutes. Jim Thrasher and Danny Schwisow collected touchdowns for Central in the first half. Thrasher hit from the two-yard line, while Schwisow belted over from three yards out.

Substituting freely in the final half of play, Central continued to move at will over the battered Gladiators in everything but the score. In the final quarter of play, Wildcat reserve quarterback, Bill Tuttle, hit Gary Sterner with a 20-yard pass good for the final Central tally.

Central 25, CPS 7

Homecoming was celebrated with the Wildcat eleven running roughshod over a rough, tough College of Puget Sound Logger squad, by a 25-7 score.

Savage, slashing running by the backs and rock hard defensive play by the line provided the victory margin that Central ran up.

While the big white line was containing the offensive thrusts of the Loggers, Central backs were piling up the yardage and the points. Jim Thrasher, Corky Bridges, Bud Snaza, and Jim Nelson all contributed to the scoring deluge.

Thrasher started the scoring by bucking over from four yards out, while Corky Bridges stole a CPS aerial and galloped 43 yards for the second touchdown. Bud Snaza sneaked for the third counter and little Jimmy Nelson scampered around left end to wind up the scoring.

Cheney, November 2

Central 20, Eastern 13

Central overcame a stubborn Eastern Washington eleven, 20-13, to move into contention for the Evergreen Conference title. Played in near freezing weather, Central was hard put to keep the Savages from scoring in the first stanza, as Eastern sent drive after drive deep into Wildcat territory. Central broke the scoring ice when Rubin Rawley blocked a Savage punt, recovered it and rammed 30 yards into the end zone.

Joe Kominiski recovered the Central kick-off on the Eastern 20. Five plays later, Corky Bridges hit Bud Snaza with a 12-yard touchdown pass. Bridges wound up the Wildcat scoring by racing 56 yards from scrimmage to give Central a 20-0 score going into the second half.

Eastern came clawing back in the third period with the deadly combination of Earl Sande's passing and Jim Bauer's running. The Savages took the opening kick-off and marched down the field, eventually scoring on a line buck from one-yard out.

Central withheld the rest of the Eastern drives until late in the final stanza, when the Savages hit on a five-yard pass to narrow the gap to 20-13.

The Wildcats withheld one last offensive thrust of the Savages, then ran out the clock, to wrap up the victory.

Team Undefeated

Vancouver, British Columbia, November 8
Central 46, UBC 13

Central tuned up for the showdown battle with Western by romping effortlessly over the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds, 46-13.

Coach Abe Poffenroth substituted freely after the first half, when the Wildcats had the game well under control.

The Wildcats unveiled a wicked passing game, as well as a crushing running attack in the easy triumph.

Ellensburg, November 16
Central 26, Western 7

An Evergreen Conference football title for the first time since the loop was formed back in 1947 was at stake and the Wildcats were up to the task as they disposed of the Western Washington Vikings, 26-7.

Central opened the scoring in the second period by converting a recovered Viking fumble into the initial score, Jim Thrasher going over the last chalk line from one-foot out.

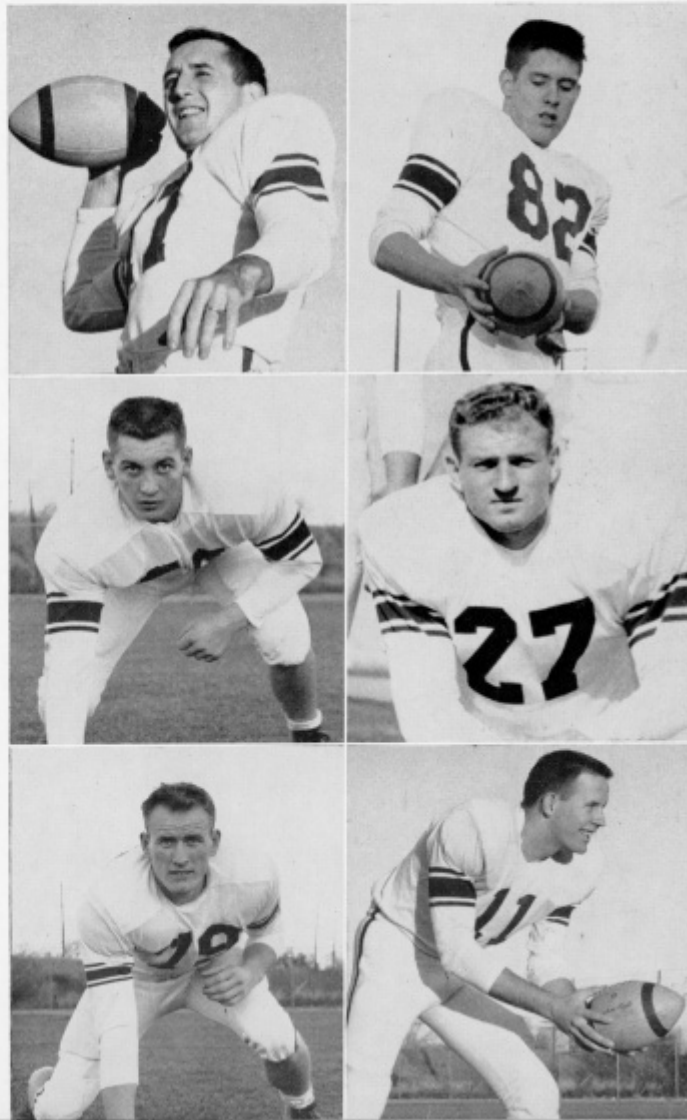

Mike Finnigan set up the next score by intercepting a Western aerial, galloping 45 yards, then lateraled off to tackle Gary Lee, who was finally hauled down on the Viking 19.

Five plays later, Corky Bridges went in to score Central's second tally. It was Bridges on the receiving end of a 20-yard pass by Bud Snaza that produced the Wildcats' second touchdown.

Dale Louk wound up Central's scoring by sprinting 55 yards with a Western punt. Western managed to crack the scoring ice with a 97-yard dash in the fading moments of the game.

Corky Bridges (37), with Bud Snaza (17) out in front to clear the way, reels off long gain on end sweep in opening conference game against Whitworth. Despite sparkling runs, Central had difficulty in downing stubborn Pirate foe, 7-6.

Western Washington pass goes awry as Wildcat players converge on Viking end. Tuttle (11) crashes to earth in attempt to bat ball away while Nelson (36) makes desperate stab at loose ball. Defensive play, such as this, kept Western Viking offense bottled up all afternoon.

Viking back is smothered by whole host of Wildcat players after short gain. Gary Lee (77) and unidentified Central lineman apply the crusher to the Western ballcarrier while Darrell DeGross (71), Gary Frederick (57) and Rubin Rawley (68) move in to mop up on the play.

Led by Coach Abe Poffenroth and assistant Adrian Beamer, Central Washington's Wildcats racked their most successful pigskin season since 1946.

Stopped only by Montana State College in non-conference play, the Wildcats romped through an unblemished conference season to take their first crown since the Evergreen Conference was formed.

Central started the football season by edging the Whitman Missionaries, 14-13, in the Shrine Bowl at Walla Walla. In the second non-conference tilt, Montana State used superior man-power to grind out a 13-7 triumph.

Opening Evergreen Conference play, the Wildcats continued their skein of tough, tight games, squeaking by Whitworth's rugged Buccaneers, 7-6.

On the road for their next clash, Central overran an injury riddled Gladiator squad from Pacific Lutheran College, 20-0.

The following week the Wildcats celebrated Homecoming by scoring a surprisingly easy victory over the College of Puget Sound Loggers, 25-7.

Conference title hopes took on a bright glow when Central thumped co-conference leaders Eastern Washington, 20-13, at Cheney. At Vancouver, British Columbia, the Wildcats tuned up for their final clash with Western Washington, by turning in their most dazzling offensive display of the season by overrunning the hapless British Columbia Thunderbirds by a 46-13 score.

piles Envious Record

Closing out the season at home, Central laid their title hopes on the line and emerged victorious with a 26-7 verdict, walking off with Evergreen Conference diadem.

Seniors playing their final season for the Central Washington Wildcats were: Dale Lanegan, Van Morgan, Darrell DeGross, Joe Kominski, Gary Lee and Bud Snaza.

Three-year felt winners included Dale Louk and Jim Thrasher, while two-year awards went to Clayton Evans, Gary Frederick, Jim Nelson and Bill Tuttle.

First year letter winners were: Jim Black, Dick Brady, Corky Bridges, Ken Edwards, Mike Finnigan, Dick Kinart, Larry Maguire, Rubin Rawley, Danny Schwisow, Gary Sterner and Gordon Townsend.

Central footballers did all right in the personal awards field, also. Mike Finnigan won the Outstanding Freshman Award while the Inspirational Award went to Jim Nelson. Gary Lee and Corky Bridges were voted the Honorary Captains Award. The Blocking Award was won by Larry Maguire.

In the Evergreen Conference, Central Washington placed eight men on the first two teams. Selected on the First Team were: Corky Bridges, Joe Kominski, Larry Maguire and Darrell DeGross. Second team positions were garnered by Gary Lee, Dale Lanegan, Gary Frederick and Bud Snaza.

Corky Bridges, who led the conference in rushing, was picked, along with Joe Kominski, for honorable mention on the Little All-America team.

Long run by little Jimmy Nelson comes to abrupt end as Eastern Washington defensive men team up to terminate play by hauling Wildcat back to ground. Hard running by Nelson and other Central backfield men kept the Savages on defensive all afternoon. Corky Bridges turns corner and gallops for big yardage against Eastern Savages. Bridges was continual thorn in Savage side all afternoon as Central scored early then held off late threat by Eastern to pick up 20-13 victory. Central Washington's all-conference choices display wares as Corky Bridges dives for touchdown in championship game against Western Washington. First team choices showing talent are, Joe Kominski (88), Darrell DeGross (71), Larry Maguire (77), and Corky Bridges (with ball). Picked for the second team are, Bud Snaza (17), Gary Frederick (57), while Dale Lanegan and Gary Lee are under the pile-up. Vicious line play like this showed why Central gained easy victory over Western.

Basketball Team Adds

With Bill Coordes suffering a sprained ankle, the Wildcats lost their big chance to go to the national playoffs in Kansas City, Missouri, after losing to Pacific Lutheran College the second night in the state playoffs.

No one will criticize the fine record set by the Cats who took the second-place conference crown with 10 wins, and 2 losses. For the entire season, Central came out on top in 17 of their meets, and dropped 8.

The highlight of the year was when the Wildcats defeated Gonzaga in a hard-fought game on the Ellensburg maples. With the odds in favor of Gonzaga and their 7'3" Frenchman, Central pulled the main upset of the year to go on and play PLC for the playoffs.

PLC was in hot water during the first night of the playoffs as Central came within three points of winning the first game. The Central rooters came home after a 54-51 loss, full of anticipation and desire to take the game the following night. Hearts sank when Coordes was found sitting along the sidelines with a bandaged ankle, and despite an outstanding attempt by the Central team, they lost 72-60, to see the Gladiators go on to the national meet.

Eight Central players saw their last college action in this series. Bill Bieloh, Joe Kominski, Bud Snaza, Jack Heinricher, Fred Hauff, Wally Loe, Don Kremer and Tom Oxwang were all lost to graduation, ending one of Central's most outstanding teams — many of whom had played on Central's third-place team for the past three years, before ending up in second place during the season.

Wildcats Win Second

Cheney, January 7

Central 60, Eastern 46

The conference opener started off with a bang with Central toppling the Eastern Savages 60 to 46. The Cats shot 36.9 percent for the game, averaging 52 percent for the second half after being tied 31-31 at the half. Coordes with 19 points, and Bieloh with 15, led in the victory.

Ellensburg, January 10

Central 74, Whitworth 55

Last year's second-place Pirates fell to the Wildcats 75-55 in the first round with the aid of Coordes's 22 points and Deeg's 14. Whitworth got off to an early start but were soon overpowered by the Central five who went on to win the game with not too much trouble.

Vancouver, B.C., January 17

Central 51, UBC 38

By using the zone defense the Thunderbirds could not rally to hold ground with the Cats as Central went on to take their third straight conference win. This time, Hauff was the leading scorer with 16 points, followed by Coordes with 9, to win the game 51-38 in the Canadian city.

Bellingham, January 18

Central 63, Western 59

With Central controlling the backboards throughout the game, Central won a close one with Western 63-59. Coordes scored 25 of Central's points with the team averaging a hot 40.4 percent of their shots and making 17 out of 26 free throw shots from the line.

Ellensburg, January 24

Central 57, Eastern 31

With their fifth win under their belts, the Wildcats were well on their way toward the crown after defeating Eastern easily 57-31. Deeg tallied 17 points, Coordes, 11, and Bieloh, 8, to give Central their win. Central's zone defense was the stumbling block for the Savages.

Tacoma, January 31

Central 64, CPS 50

It was CPS that felt the forceful blow of the Central group as they bowed to the Cats 64-50 in Tacoma. This win gave the Cats a temporary first spot in the conference standings. Again Coordes sparked the men with 16 points, followed by Bieloh with 13.

Place in Conference

Parkland, February 1

Central 45, PLC 57

Central tested its power against the defending champions, PLC, to take it on the chin, 57-45, in a heart-breaker for the Cats. The Lutes led 15-2 before Central scored a field goal and Central trailed 31-16 at the half. Again Coordes led; this time with 26 tallies, aided by Kominski on defense.

Spokane, February 8

Central 60, Whitworth 49

The Cats got back on the winning streak march by defeating Whitworth for the second time during the season. Coordes scored more than half the points when he astonished the spectators by pouring through 33 points. Kominski fouled out early after the half, after outstanding rebounding.

Ellensburg, February 13

Central 89, Western 77

Back on the home courts, Central rallied for their eighth conference win over the Vikings 89-77 with high scoring by Coordes and Bieloh, each with 19; Kominski with 18, and Deeg with 16. Western scored more points against Central in this game than any other team in conference action.

Ellensburg, February 15

Central 71, UBC 46

Vancouver's Thunderbirds remained in low gear throughout their return game with Central here to lose 71-46 in an easy battle for the Cats. This being the last time the Cats would meet the Birds in conference action, Bieloh led the scoring with 26 points.

Ellensburg, February 20

Central 42, PLC 44

Central's hopes of sharing the conference crown were shattered in the final minutes of play in Ellensburg as PLC slid by Central with a two-point margin. Coordes bucketed 21 points to help tie the game up 16 times, with both teams scoring 18 field goals, and PLC winning at the free-throw line.

Ellensburg, February 22

Central 60, CPS 46

Coach Nicholson's men found the going fairly easy as they finished out their league play by defeating CPS 60-46. After the first quarter, Central dominated play with Bieloh making 20 of Central's points to give Central undisputed possession of second spot in the conference.

Central Proud of Hoopsters

Several outstanding awards were presented and bestowed upon members of the 1957-58 basketball team following their successful season.

Voted by their teammates to share the Inspirational Award for the season were Bud Snaza and Joe Kominski, both seniors. Both are previous lettermen and football stars.

Bill Coordes, in addition to being selected for the Evergreen All-Conference Team, was voted Honorary Captain by his teammates. Coordes, a junior from Toppenish, received both of these honors last year also.

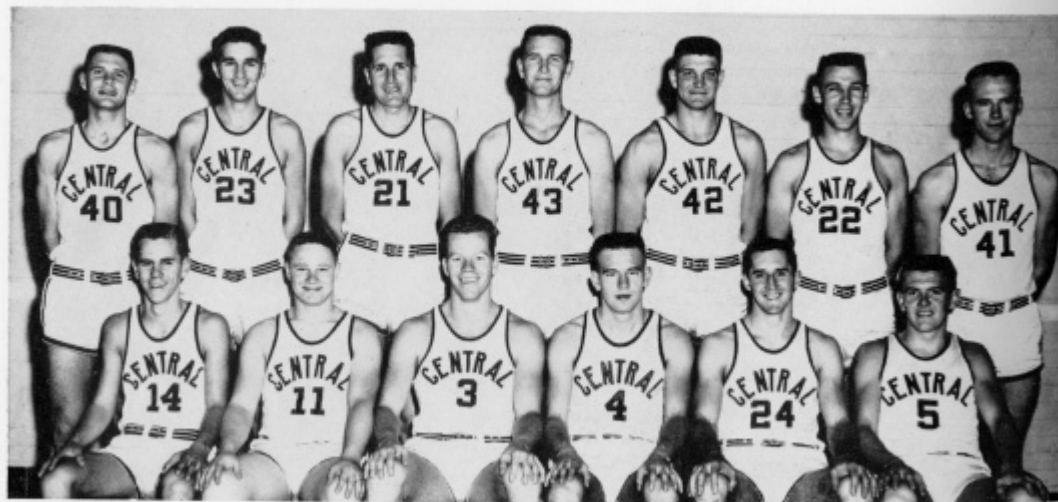

Named to the second all-conference team were Joe Kominski and Bill Bieloh. Darrell Deeg was named to the honorable mention team.

With most of the team graduating this spring, Coach Nicholson is placing his hopes in Coordes, Deeg, frosh, and transfers for the coming season.

Joe Kominski proved himself to be as adept on the basketball court as he was on the football field. He snagged some terrific rebounds for the Cats throughout the season. Bill Bieloh and Bud Snaza were the two hustling guards who made Central one of the best defensive teams in the northwest. Wally Lee came into the season slowly but found his stride near the end of the season. Fred Hauff played a good season but was slowed down near the last of it due to an automobile accident. Jack Heinricher was known for his one-handed set shot, while Don Kremer was seen with a good hook shot. Tom Oxwang gave a lot of fight and spirit during the campaign, although he saw only limited action.

For Coach Nicholson, this group of boys boosted his winning streak to well over the 500 mark during his coaching career which was established last year.

As a whole, the Central students, faculty members, and rooters saw an excellent example of basketball playing by the Wildcats throughout the season.

First row: H. Dobler, F. Hauff, J. Hanson, W. Dalesky, G. Snaza, D. Boulet.
Second row: T. Oxwang, D. Kremer, W. Lee, D. Deeg, J. Kominski, J. Heinricher, B. Bieloh.

Baseball Outlook Good for Wildcats

The outlook for the 1958 Wildcat baseball team was very good, at the time of this writing, as it appeared that the team would be composed mainly of veterans. Coach Jim Nylander had at least one letterman back for each position, with the exception of first base. Bill Bieloh and Chuck Dunlop were the only returning pitchers, but several new men looked very good on the mound, including Jerry St. George and Don Rasmussen.

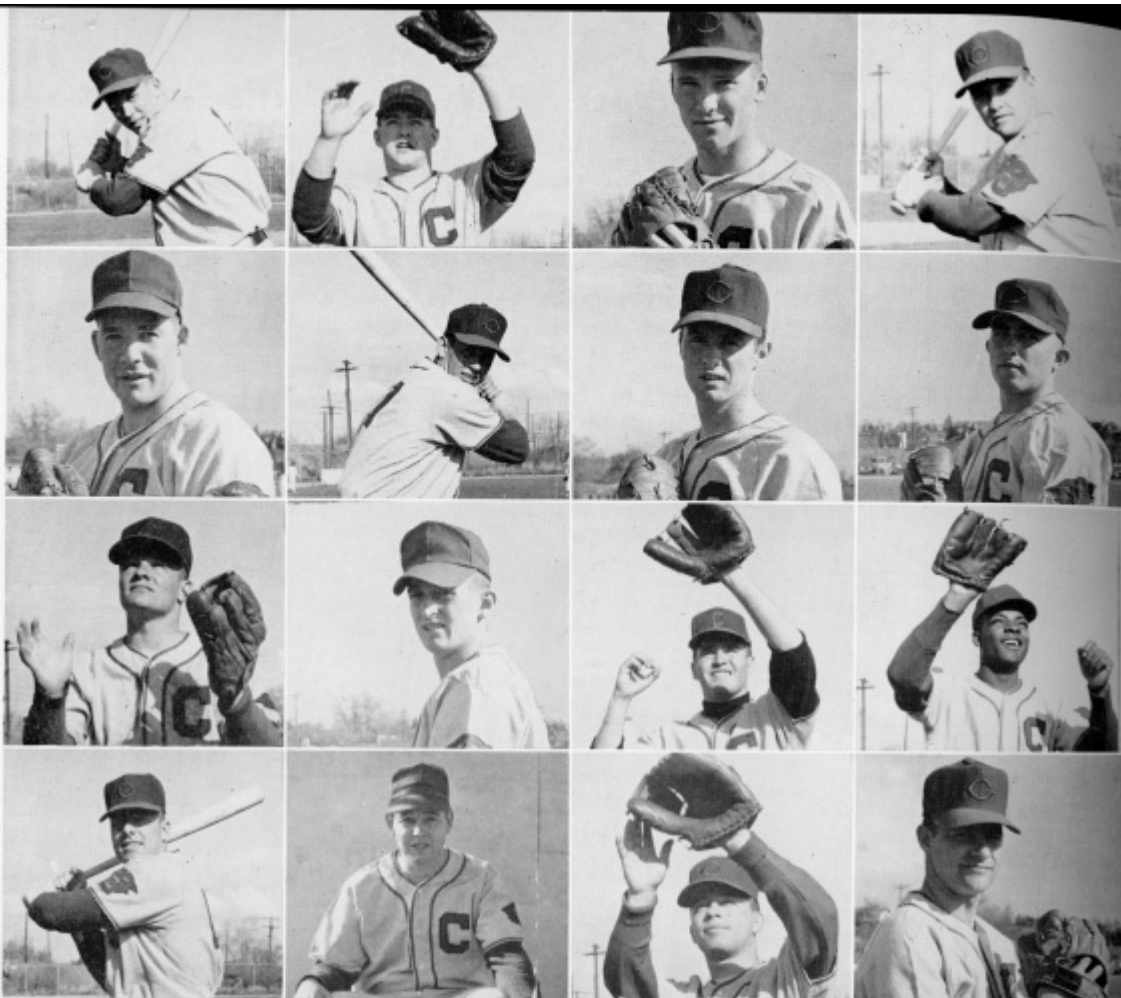

Jim Routos and Darrel DeGross shared the bulk of the catching chores the previous season, but the remainder of the infield was composed of Chuck Degman at first base, Captain George Carberry or Eddie Aho at second, Gene Verley or Vic LaPorte at third, and Gene Townsend at the shortstop position.

Fred Hauff, Jerry Jones, and Jimmy Nelson were the veteran outfielders back, and with the help of Lanny Anderson, patrolled the outfield.

The Central team was certainly not short in the hitting department, with Jerry Jones, Gene Verley, and Fred Hauff as the veterans in this department.

Row one: C. Jones, E. Aho, J. Jones, D. Hauff, G. Verley, E. Jordan, G. Carberry.
Row two: J. Nelson, B. Bieloh, J. Routos, R. Sloan, D. Rasmussen, R. LaPorte, B. Caton, J. McCord, J. St. George.
Row three: B. Moliter, F. Hauff, D. Staringer, C. Degman, C. Dunlop, G. Townsend, L. Anderson, T. Hall, J. Nylander.

Baseball Season Short, But Active

During the past spring, the Wildcat baseball team has had one more opportunity to prove to the student body that it is the top team. During the 1957 season, it won second place in the conference, and the hopes were that that record would be beaten during the 1958 season.

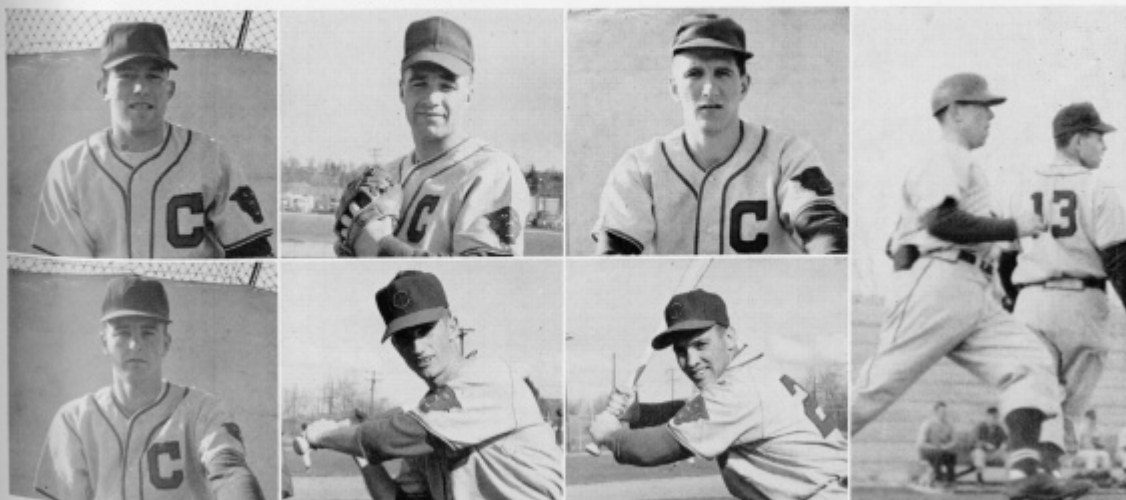

This was Coach Nylander's first year with the Wildcat squad, and he was very pleased with the early turnouts. Regardless of the final results, the team was surely one which the school could be proud of.

Strides During Season

The Wildcat track team faced an up-hill battle in the Evergreen Conference track campaign, but were determined to overcome any weaknesses and make a good showing. Coach Adrian Beamer, in his first year at Central, provided the necessary enthusiasm for the fellows.

At the beginning of the season, the leading men on the pole vault were Pete Higgins, Tom Shellenberger, and Ron Johnson. The high jump was capably handled by Jim Marta and Bud Snaza. Supporting the weights were Gary Lee, Gary Correll, John Mathewson, Ron Johnson, and Tom Shellenberger. Gary Correll and John Mathewson appeared to be the leaders in the broad jump. Mike Higgins and Larry Hinchey were the best distance runners.

The schedule for the 1958 season was:

April

- 12 Central at Western
- 19 Central at Whitworth
- 26 Eastern at Central

May

- 1 Seattle Pacific at Central
- 10 Whitman Invitational
- 16 PLC at Central
- 23-24 Conference Meet at UBC

MICHAEL FINNIGAN
VERNON BALL

In his second year as the tennis coach, Everett Irish had high hopes for winning the Evergreen Conference crown. One of the sparks for the team was the return of Vern Ball, probably one of the best tennis players in the northwest.

Leading the single matches were Vern Ball, Ken Sturm, Dennis Ross, Frank Cernick, and Harold Dobler. Others working hard to place on one of the teams were Chuck LeSueur, Don Ball, Denny Ross, and Mike Finnigan.

Last year, the team placed fourth, but with the team that was lining up at the time of this writing, the coach and team had their eyes set on the first place spot and the championships at Beaumont, Texas. The students have been behind them all of the way, although there were not as many spectators at the matches as at some other athletic matches during the year.

Tennis Team Sparked by Veterans and Enthusiasm

The tennis schedule for the 1958 season was as follows:

April	May
11 Western at Central	2 Central at Eastern
18 Central at CPS	3 Central at Whitworth
19 Central at PLC	6 CPS at Central
26 Eastern at Central	9 Central at SPC
29 SPC at Central	10 Central at Western

Women's and Men's Intro

During the year, one of the main avenues through which the girls in the dormitories can better work together as a team, is the women's intramural program. Each of the girls' dormitories sponsored a team for volleyball and basketball. The program is sponsored by the Women's Recreational Association and the girls meet on Mondays and Thursdays, some nights practicing and other nights having tournaments.

For each of the sports, including softball in the spring, a trophy is awarded to the dormitory winning the tournament.

At the left, basketball is being played, with a high jump by the girls. Basketball is played probably longer than any of the other sports, and provides much recreation during the winter months.

murals Provide Recreation

The men's intramural program is very similar to the women's, except that it is probably much expanded. The men began in the fall with football, and continued through the spring. Many of the men's dormitories had more than one team, making the competition very keen, even between their own groups.

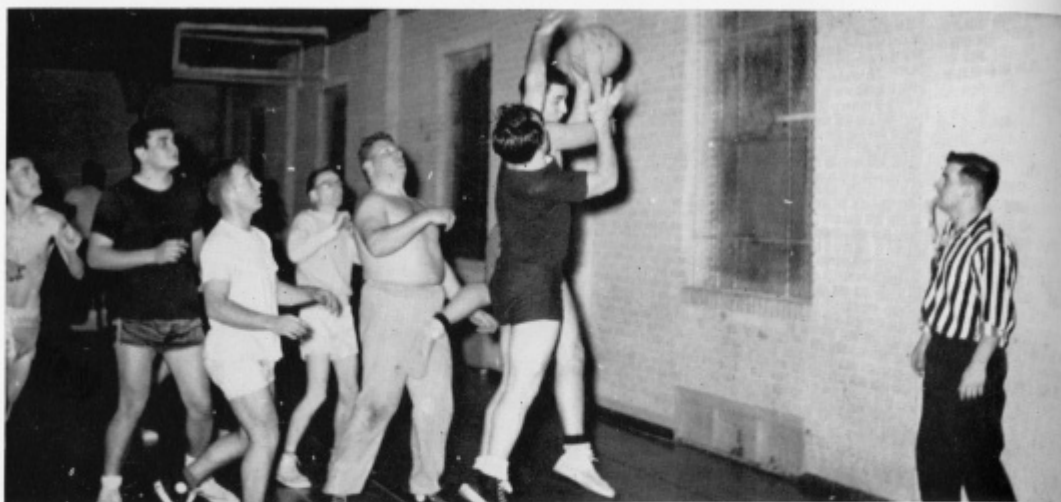

Trophies were also awarded to the winning groups, in most cases.

At the right, a high jump is shown, as the basketball season got under way. Many nights were spent in the elimination of teams, before a winner could be named. The gymnasium was an active place, keeping pace with both the men and women.

At the lower left, another of the basketball games are shown, and at the lower right, fencing is shown as another of the sports in which the fellows participate. Some of the other activities were volleyball, chess, pool, ping pong, and softball.

Students Participate in Many Activities

During the college year, students participate in many activities both in and out of school, all of which help to make the student a better rounded individual.

Above, one of the students majoring in Physical Education is shown refereeing a game for a team of younger boys. This is one of the most valuable of all of the activities for a student going into the field of physical education at any level.

New Field, Spirit Found at Central

Above, North Hall helped to show their spirit during the football game at Cheney, by leading a caravan to the game, and then using all sorts of noise makers, which helped them to win the trophy, or jug, at the noise rally during the Homecoming weekend.

Above and right, students leave a basketball game en masse. It is difficult to imagine such a group leaving in an orderly manner, especially after a happy win for the evening.

At the right, Mr. Robert Slingland is shown helping to set up the television camera for one of the special programs in the auditorium, which were televised by local people, and supervised and helped by the students in the Radio and Television division, a new division on the campus. This was the first year that such classes had been offered. The building between the Science building and the Business Education building was converted into a studio, where students can actually broadcast and eventually will be able to televise programs from there. The department hopes to continually grow during the next few years.

Below: Mrs. Bonnie Snaza and Miss Elizabeth Wright, Assistant Dietitians.

Dining Hall—Infirmary

Many problems are continually encountered in a place where over seven hundred students are fed. Although the dietitians have done an outstanding job in planning the menus, ordering the food, and seeing that the food was served by competent workers and prepared by conscientious cooks. All of this planning is done, in addition to the planning of several banquets during the year.

The Director of Dormitories also has the burden of managing all of the dormitories to the pleasure of the many students residing there. The many jobs done by this office are seen every day, but the praise is very scarce. Because of the wonderful job being done, we are very grateful.

Another source of gratitude for many students is the college infirmary, located in Sue Lombard Hall. Nurses are on duty twenty-four hours each day, and a doctor can be called at any time and makes daily visits to patients being cared for there. The service is free to all students. There are times when the infirmary must expand and during an epidemic during the fall quarter, Kamola Hall had to be used, and fourteen beds were set up there, with the same care being given to the girls staying there.

Mrs. Maxine Taylor is the head nurse and is in general charge of the infirmary, but there are several other nurses who are always willing to greet students with a smile and treat them with loving care.

An addition to the classroom building.

The Success of the 1958-59 School Year in View

One of the most interesting projects during the school year was the erection of an addition to the classroom building. This $36,000 project is scheduled to provide an additional room for the home economics department and two regular classrooms.

In February, the first Honor Council elections were held, with four new members elected. These four took office at the end of winter quarter and will serve until the end of the next winter quarter. Two were elected during the spring quarter elections. At the beginning of spring quarter, Dave Boyd was elected chairman. The other three newly elected Council members were Sonja Zamzow, Sharon Hodges, and Jerry Fogelberg, who completed the school year with Don Standley and Molly Clough.

In Appreciation . . .

As you have read, or even just looked casually through your 1958 Hyakem, I hope you have found pictured the memories you will wish to treasure after college days are past. We hope that you will be proud of your book, as we have worked hard, but have enjoyed working toward our goal. Many have been the hours that students have stayed home from dime movies and other entertainments to see that this volume became a reality.

I would like to thank the members of the student body who helped me so much during the past year. The members of the SGA Council were continually called on to help furnish information or to identify a picture, and it was all done with a smile. It was surely appreciated.

I also wish to thank the staff who worked with us on Saturdays and during the week, doing the many routine jobs which had to be done, even if they weren't particularly enjoyable.

I want to thank my two most constant helpers in the Hyakem office, Pat Gauss, the copy editor, and Donna Turner, my associate editor. Both girls worked many hours, both in my presence and in my absence, to see that the load was lifted from the editor. Every minute and hour of their time meant worlds to me.

Last, but surely not least, have been my two advisers, Miss Bonnie Wiley in an official capacity, and Paul Lambertsen, in an unofficial capacity. Both were so generous in sharing their backgrounds of rich experiences with me. Many hours were spent by both in listening to the problems confronting the staff, and they always seemed to have an answer for us. Without the aid of these two, it is possible that you wouldn't have the book before you that you have.

I am very grateful to all of these people, and to the many others who have made the year an enjoyable one. It is the people like those who are students at Central, who make the world a better place in which to live.

I sincerely hope that you will enjoy your 1958 HYAKEM.
